FROM CHILE.

Chilean Purchase of Arms from Massachusetts—Proposed Purchase of the Ram Dunderberg.

NEW YORK, August 27.—A Santiago, Chile, correspondent of July 15th, states that seventy guns have been purchased of Massachusetts for $600,000, without carriages. This ordnance includes four four hundred and fifty pounders, six three hundred pounders, and six eight pounder Blakely guns, the remaining consisting of serviceable artillery of various calibres, but not very heavy. The English guns are those purchased by Massachusetts during the late war for the protection of Boston harbor from rebel pirates, &c. As the carriages are to be built in the United States, some time will elapse before the ordnance can be shipped.

A Chile agent writes from New York that he has been trying to buy the Dunderberg. He says that Mr. W. H. Webb wants $2,500,000 for the iron-clad there, and that Webb offers to deliver her, complete, in Valparaiso, at his own risk, for $3,500,000, one million extra. Nobody here expects Chile to buy the Dunderberg, though her agents are doing their best to get the vessel.

Mr. Benjamin Vicuna McKenna is to be appointed to fill the place of the Chilian Envoy in the United States, in place of Senor B. Asta Barusaga, present Minister from Chili to that republic.

The captain of a bark from the Malvine Isles states that on the 27th of May he witnessed from the top of a hill, on one of the islands, a battle between two Chilean and three Spanish vessels, but could not learn the result of the fight, owing to a sudden storm having arisen. The Valparaisans attach no importance to the news, but consider it on the contrary, unreliable. The Government official organ does not give any credit to the Captain's story. However, when Mr. McKenna was in Lima he expected that three vessels which he had bought were near home, and as no news has yet reached Valparaiso of said vessels, there is reason to fear that the Captain's story may have good foundation. There is the greater reason for fear on this head, as the vessels would necessarily be but poorly armed and manned, and might easily have been captured at a disadvantage by regular war vessels.

DEATH OF DEAN RICHMOND.

Marks of Respect—Comments of the Press.

NEW YORK, August 27.—The World says of the death of Dean Richmond: Mr. Richmond was struck down by a severe complication of internal disorders, greatly aggravated, if not directly induced, by his unsparing labors to bring about the successful results recently attained in the National Convention at Philadelphia. His wife and family were with him at the last, and he received the most assiduous care and attention from the best medical ability of the city, Drs. Blakeman, Alonzo Clarke, William H. Van Buren, Metcalf, Willard, Parker and Flint being in constant consultation over his case. On Friday night there was observed a marked change for the better, and since that time his eminent physicians had begun to hope for his recovery, but he grew weaker all yesterday, and passed away at ten minutes past two this morning without a pang. Mr. Richmond was born at Woodstock, Vermont, March 31st, 1804.

ALBANY, August 27.—The announcement of the death of Dean Richmond creates a profound sensation in this city. Flags are at half mast. The Central Railroad offices, buildings and locomotives are being draped in mourning.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., August 27.—The announcement of the death of Dean Richmond causes a general expression of sorrow in this city. Flags were suspended at half mast, and other demonstrations of mourning were made. The locomotives of the New York Central Railroad are being draped in mourning. The locomotive "Richmond" was elaborately draped in mourning.

THE PRESIDENTIAL EXCURSION.

Who are to Compose the Party—Hospitalities Tendered—Philadelphia Corn Exchange will not Participate.

WASHINGTON, August 27.—So far as it is certainly known to-day, the following is a list of those who will accompany the President on the excursion: The Secretary of State and ladies, the Secretary of the Navy and wife, the Postmaster General, General Grant, Admiral Farragut and wife, Senator and Mrs. Patterson, Colonel William G. Moore, and Colonel Morrison, both connected with the President's office; Marshal of the District of Columbia, Gooding, and his deputy, Colonel O'Beirne, L. A. Gobright, reporter of the Associated Press, and W. W. Warden. It is believed that Major General Meade, Minister Romero, and perhaps others, will also be of the party. Hospitalities have been tendered by the cities of Baltimore, Wilmington, New York, Albany, Auburn, Rochester, Buffalo, Erie, Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Chicago, Indianapolis, Peoria, and others.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., August 27.—At the Corn Exchange to-day, a resolution offered to appoint a Committee to co-operate with the merchants in receiving the President was defeated, receiving only four votes. The Journeymen Tailors' Society have resolved to turn out en masse to-morrow to receive the President. At a meeting held at the Merchant's Exchange to-day, it was resolved that the hospitalities of the city be extended to the President, and that the merchants, mechanics and professional men, and citizens generally, will meet him at the depot to escort him to his headquarters on his arrival here. The President will leave Washington on Tuesday by the regular train.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

Wreck of a British Ship—The Revolt in Kansuh.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 5.—The British ship Starlight, Captain Bush, from Hong Kong, bound to San Francisco, was wrecked near Island Po-Chung-Hian, on June 12th. One hundred and forty-three Chinese passengers and one European were drowned. The ship broke up six hours after striking, and nothing was saved. The Government had chartered a steamer to send after the wrecked crew.

Hong Kong papers of July 2d say the English commercial panic was felt there injuriously, but the rush on the Government banks had ceased.

The United States flag ship Hartford had arrived at Hong Kong, from Amoy, and reported that the Imperialists had beaten 6,000 Nienfee rebels, causing them to retire. The Chinese pirates captured the Hanoverian schooner Sophie, off Chile point, and stole $2,000, but left the officers and crew uninjured.

The report of a revolt in Kansuh is confirmed. The troops in Ranchon, the capital, took possession of the city in the absence of the Governor General, seized the persons of the Judge and Treasurer, and tried to force them to memorialize the Emperor to the effect that the troops were drawn into revolt for want of pay and food. This event caused great numbers of the gentry and mandarins to commit suicide to prove their loyalty. Great distress prevailed throughout the Province. Wheat and macaroni, the chief articles of diet, were held at 70 taels per picul. It was reported that a large body of rebels had penetrated into the vicinity of Chin Kang, in the heart of the salt districts. It is feared that the American schooner Golden Heart was lost about June 12th, between Tamar and Amoy.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—A letter from Mexico states that a portion of the expedition under John Burmy landed safely in Sin-ivo, with four thousand muskets and six pieces of artillery, and are now supposed to be with Corrona. The town of Mariposa, California, was destroyed by fire on the 20th. But five or six buildings were saved. The estimated loss is $100,000.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

A notorious Washington bully named Richard Rivers was arrested in that city last Friday, for some offense, and on his way to the lock-up gave the officer a good deal of trouble. He was incarcerated in a cell with an agent named D. K. Jackson, with whom he soon picked a quarrel, and Jackson was most unmercifully beaten. The Justice afterwards discharged Jackson and re-committed Rivers.

OUR IRON-CLADS IN EUROPE.

Voyage of the United States War Vessels from Copenhagen to Helsingfors and Cronstadt—The Russian Squadron of Salutation—The Officers on Shore and a General Jubilee—Brilliant Reception by the Russian Officials and the People—Assistant Naval Secretary Fox at the Peterhoff Palace—His Address and the Imperial Reply—Visit of the Czar to the Augusta and Miantonomah—Entertainment on board the Imperial Yacht—The Royal Toast—Gen. Todleben, the "Defender of Sebastopol"—&c., &c., &c.

The New York Herald's special correspondent accompanying the American Squadron of iron-clads, now in Europe, furnishes us with additional information concerning their voyage over the Baltic Sea to the Gulf of Finland—from the Danish capital, Copenhagen, to Cronstadt, opposite St. Petersburg, in Russia. The U. S. side-wheel steamer Augusta (ten guns), Commander Murray, and the monitor Miantonomah (four guns), Commander Beaumont, the latter having on board the Honorable Gustavus V. Fox, Assistant Secretary of the United States Navy, arrived at the port of Helsingfors, Province of Finland, at ten o'clock, on Friday morning, August 3d, from Copenhagen, having made the voyage in exactly three days. The Miantonomah averaged eight knots per hour the whole distance, which speed surpasses that of the Monadnock (four guns) in her recent voyage to the Pacific Ocean. The Miantonomah has been tested in a severe way in the North Sea, and come out of the ordeal triumphantly, and that, too, in the face of all European nations. The vessels left Copenhagen on Tuesday, July 31st, at ten o'clock in the forenoon with favorable winds and weather, and during the trip, Secretary Fox, Commander Beaufort, and Mr. Lanbat of the Miantonomah, visited the Augusta in one of the monitor's cutters, and dined with Commander Murray.

THE GULF OF FINLAND.

The last few hours of the voyage were passed in the midst of gloomy and disagreeable weather and a heavy shower of rain, amidst which the wild rocky coast of Finland, fringed here and there by the breakers, loomed up in the distance. The islands of Soborg were soon made, and the two vessels ran down to the entrance to Helsingfors, where a pilot was picked up, and he guided the vessels between the rocks and fortified islands into the broad and beautiful harbor beyond, almost exactly like that at Portland, Maine. The entrance is deep and free, and is guarded by one hundred heavy guns, which peer over parapets of the strongest mason work.

SALUTING THE FLAGS.

As the Augusta entered the channel she sent the Russian colors to the fore and saluted them with twenty-one guns, the echoes of which were repeated over and over again among the rocks that rose on either side, until it seemed as if every crevice in them was bellowing forth thunders of greeting. In five minutes afterwards the Augustine had dropped her anchor off the city of Helsingfors, in a dismal rain storm.

HELSINGFORS CITY.

From the deck of the vessels the city of Helsingfors presented a fine appearance, with its public buildings of great dimensions occupying very commanding positions, and hundreds of other edifices with no small pretensions to architectural beauty. The new portion of Helsingfors seems to be exceedingly well built. The streets are wide but not well paved, and the sidewalks are narrow. The city is lighted with gas, but has no water works. On the seaside of the town are many delightful villas, occupied by the wealthy as summer residences. In one of these resides Reynolds Frenckneil, Esq., our American Consul, but a Russian by birth and education.

AN OFFICIAL WELCOME.

Shortly after coming to anchor, a steam launch from town, gaily decked with flags, and the "stars and stripes" floating at the fore, and with a long line of white cutters in tow, moved directly towards the Augusta. In the stern sheets of the launch, which was elegantly furnished, was the General Baron Walleen, aid-de-camp to the Emperor, and Governor of the province of Finland; Vice Admiral Nordmann; the commander of the port, and a number of prominent government officials of the province, and in full uniform. They saluted the ship with loud cheers, which were acknowledged from the Augusta in hearty style. The boats then passed to the Miantonomah, where Commander Beaumont received Governor Walleen, of Finland, and his suite.

In a brief interview the General and Vice Admiral extended a warm welcome to the vessels, and expressed his delight and the pleasure of the Russians at the visit. He extended every possible aid that could be desired, and wished that the visit could be prolonged. The distinguished party were then shown all over the ship, and before they left the Vice Admiral was saluted by the Augusta, to which the fort responded, gun for gun.

Afterwards the party visited and inspected the Augusta, looked with interest upon her heavy battery and examined with wonder the new breech loading small arms she is supplied with. They were acknowledged to be superior to the Prussian needle-gun, which has made its reputation forever in the recent German campaigns.

DISPATCHES TO ST. PETERSBURG.

Communications were at once opened with the Hon. Cassius M. Clay, American Minister Plenipotentiary at the Russian Court, to ascertain the most authentic intelligence concerning the cholera at Cronstadt and St. Petersburg. The reply being to the effect that the disease had almost disappeared from both localities, no unpleasant apprehensions were felt by the officers and crews.

Admiral Lessoffsky, who was so well known and highly esteemed in the United States, while in the command of the Russian squadron recently so handsomely received in the United States, telegraphed as follows to Captain Fox:

ST. PETERSBURG, August 4, 1866.

Many hearty welcomes! To-morrow you will be joined by Admiral Likhatchoff and his squadron. He will tell you all about the cholera.

LESOFFSKY.

ENTERTAINMENT IN FINLAND.

Before leaving Helsingfors city the officers and crew of the Augusta and Miantonomah, were entertained at a concert by Ole Bull, at the edge of the town. Ole Bull is in the finest health, and played with all his marvellous skill and power.

THE DROSKA.

The Park was reached by means of Droskas, a diminutive old fashioned open carriage, with seats for two passengers, and a perch for the driver before. Of these vehicles the Herald's correspondent says: The wheels are not more than two feet in diameter, and, of course, the vehicle though swung on tolerably high springs is very low. Over the rough pavement this curious affair is drawn at a dashing rate, and the passenger goes pouncing and jumping and whirling about, until he seizes with a tenacious grasp the side of the craft and holds on with breathless despair, while the flaxen-haired youngster perched in front gyrates his short whip and with wild imprecations in pure Finnish urges his lively steed on the road. The sensation one experiences in riding in one of these quaint vehicles is not the least curious and novel enjoyed in foreign lands. There is a spice of wild Tartar about a droska which gives it an attraction not found in a coach and four. The young rascals who urge on the steeds take good care to leave a vivid impression on the minds and seats of the green passenger, as I can testify.

AN ENTERTAINMENT OF ANOTHER SORT.

At one o'clock on the same day Gov. Walleen invited the officers to a lunch at the restaurant in the Park. The saloon where the lunch was served was tastefully decorated with flags and banners. On the tables, which displayed a variety and a number of wine glasses—very suggestive—was a large quantity of beautiful flowers and exotics, which adorned and perfumed the room. A fine band was present, which discoursed our own national airs in capital style, interspersed with the Russian hymns and airs and selections from operas, delicately and brilliantly rendered.

SECRETARY FOX'S TOAST.

Mr. Fox was received with immense applause. After it had subsided, Mr. Fox was understood to thank the Governor and the gentlemen present for the warm and hospitable reception be, together with the officers of the ships, had received in Helsingfors. He had come to Russia, bearing the resolutions of the Congress of the United States, which spoke for the people, congratulating the Emperor of Russia upon his escape from assassination. Those resolutions expressed the true feeling of the people of the United States, who felt the sympathy extended to them by the Emperor and the Russian nation during the recent rebellion. In the darkest days of that rebellion, in the hour of need, the words of sympathy from the Emperor were the only rays of good cheer which reached us. The United States were firm and steadfast friends of Russia. After further appropriate remarks, which were recieved with great enthusiasm, he closed by offering "the health of his Imperial Majesty the Emperor of Russia." This was received by round after round of applause.

ADMIRAL NORDMANN RESPONDS.

Admiral Nordmann responded in an eloquent manner, and re-echoed the friendly sentiments of the Governor, all of which were recognized and applauded. Remarks were made by other distinguished gentlemen, among whom was Captain Murray, in response to a personal sentiment offered by the Governor. His remarks were pertinent, and elicited applause. The band played throughout the entertainment in a delightful manner. The occasion lasted three hours, and passed off in the most agreeable manner. All that a most elegant hospitality could provide we enjoyed. We shall long remember the affair.

OLE BULL ON A TABLE.

After the entertainment had concluded Ole Bull was invited to play some airs upon his wonderful instrument. He mounted the table and played a number of patriotic American airs in a magnificent style. He was greatly applauded.

A BALL AND WIND UP.

An impromptu ball or "hop" terminated the entertainment in the evening. This ended the festivities at Helsingfors. They were admirably carried out from beginning to end, and were greatly enjoyed.

GOOD BYE.

At seven o'clock the next morning the squadron sailed for Cronstadt.

AT CRONSTADT.

The Herald's correspondent says: "We arrived at this (Cronstadt) magnificent port on the morning of August 6th, after one of the most triumphant receptions ever accorded men-of-war the world over. It was something grand, imposing, unparalleled; worthy of an extended notice."

THE RUN FROM HELSINGFORS.

The run from Helsingfors was made in dark and rainy weather, like that encountered on the way from Copenhagen to the Gulf of Finland. The Augusta passed out of the harbor ahead of the Miantonomah, and a little Russian gunboat followed as an escort. A Russian squadron lay off the harbor awaiting our vessels.

There were eleven vessels altogether in the squadron, among which were four monitors, an iron-clad ram frigate, an immense steam battery, two heavy steam frigates, several paddle-wheel ships and a screw corvette.

"WELCOME."

The dispatch boat lay nearer in shore, and when the Augusta approached she signalled the fact to Admiral Likatchoff, who at once ran up the signal to the mast head of his flagship: "You are welcome." As our vessels approached the fleet the Russian flag was sent to the fore of the Augusta and saluted with seventeen guns, in honor of the Russian admiral, which he promptly returned, gun for gun.

THE MEETING.

Subsequently, the Augusta run near to her, she lowered a boat and the flag lieutenant and a master of the flagship came on board and congratulated the Captain on his arrival, and tendered all aid that could be offered. The officers then visited the Miantonomah to deliver messages of welcome.

Commander Murray then proceeded in his gig to the flagship Sebastopol, where he was joined by Commander Beaumont, to present their respects to Rear Admiral Likatchoff. The reception was exceedingly cordial, and the Admiral again extended a hearty welcome to our ships. The plan of sailing was then arranged, and the Admiral detailed Flag Lieutenant Novarselsky and Master —— to aid in navigating the Augusta to Cronstadt. A full set of Russian naval signals was sent on board the Augusta, in order that communication could be maintained with the Admiral's flagship at all times.

ESCORTED WITH HONORS.

At about ten o'clock, everything having been arranged, the vessels of the squadron got in their respective positions, and at a speed of about six knots, the vessels steamed on.

THE UNION IN THE VAN.

The Augusta led the squadron, and gave the speed. She retained her advanced position, it being the assigned post of honor, until she came to an anchor in harbor.

A SPLENDID SIGHT.

The Russian squadron made a grand appearance sailing along in two lines abreast, rolling from the pipes huge volumes of smoke that marked the exact position of each ship in the line.

THE RUSSIAN THUNDERER.

The grand old frigate of the squadron is the immense iron-clad Sebastopol, a magnificent specimen of naval architecture, six or more thousand tons burden. She is bark-rigged, heavily sparred, and seems calculated for service. She has at her bow a projecting ram, about forty feet long, of a very peculiar shape. The bowsprit springs from the base of the bow at its junction with the ram, which gives it a funny appearance. Heavy head seas must test the ship's strength when she is driven; but her massive portions will prove sufficient for any trial. At all events she has passed through very heavy weather and behaved splendidly. She carries thirty-four eight-inch breech-loading guns, rifled and smooth bore, and would prove a tough customer for any iron-clad other than the turret style.

NEARING THE FORTS.

The fine large lighthouse, ten miles distant from Cronstadt, was soon passed, and the imposing brown wall of Forts Paul, Constantine, Alexander and Kronslot, and the masts of a thousand vessels in the harbor rose up to our view through the mellow haze of the morning.

ANCHORED.

Our vessels soon took an official pilot, who brought them to the anchorage assigned to them. When they reached the Great Roads the Russian colors were sent to the fore and saluted with twenty-one nine-inch guns, which were responded to by the battery off the sea wall. Steaming on, they passed on the left Forts Constantine, Alexander and Peter—splendid and powerful casemated works of masonry and brick—and finally, on the right, the immense Fort Kronslot, which is at the mouth of the inner harbor, Fort Menschikoff being on the other hand, directly opposite. Fort Paul laid to the right of Kronslot, and seemed to be exceedingly strong.

THE PEOPLE'S OVATION.

From the entrance to Cronstadt on to the point of anchorage, the people turned out by thousands, and the progress of our vessels was a continued ovation. The waters were crowded with little boats, and the shores lined with human beings.

THE FIRST VISIT ON SHORE.

Commander Murray with Commander Beaumont at eleven o'clock went ashore and called upon the Governor of Cronstadt, Admiral Novossolsky, next in command to His Imperial Highness, the Grand Duke Constantine, Grand High Admiral. Admiral Lissoffsky went aboard the monitor, and at twelve o'clock he took Mr. Fox on board the royal yacht, and proceeded with him to St. Petersburg. The Augusta saluted Mr. Fox with seventeen guns, and the Russians also gave him a like number. The balance of the day was passed in receiving officials who come with congratulatory messages.

THE IMPERIAL FETES.

The Imperial entertainments were carried out on a scale of positive magnificence and profuse liberality. From August the 6th to the 16th inclusive, our sailors were the recipients of grand banquets, lunches, distinguished visits, etc. On the 7th ultimo, the usual official calls were made, and salutes fired. Among the callers was Admiral Novossolsky, second in command of the Russian Navy. Rear Admirals Bontakoff and Libatchoff also called and paid their respects, and were saluted by thirteen guns. The latter officer, a young man of about thirty-five years of age, commands the Baltic iron-clad squadron. He is a great favorite of the Emperor, who justly regards him as one of the first officers in the navy.

A NAVAL ADDRESS.

The congratulatory address to our sailors was from Rear Admiral Libatshoff. He said:

"You have won golden opinions from all Russians. From the smallest boy in my fleet to myself there is a feeling of joy that you have come, and there is not one of us that will not do everything in our power to assist you. Ask us for all you wish and we shall regard it as a great pleasure and honor to give it. Russians and Americans are friends, have been, and always will be such."

MORE VISITORS.

United States Consul Wilkins, also a Russian, and many more distinguished gentlemen and their suites, visited and inspected the Augusta and Miantonomah, and from the least to the greatest, all expressed the most decided approval of everything they saw.

THE CLUB BREAKFAST.

The Naval Club of Cronstadt gave a grand breakfast to our commanders and a large number of officers from the ships. About sixty of the prominent members of the club, naval officers of high grade, sat down to a most elegant dejeuner.

USE OF STEAMERS.

Two steamboats were placed at the disposal of Commander Murray, to use as he saw fit.

AT THE PETERHOFF PALACE.

On Wednesday, August the 8th, our commanders and their suits, Secretary Fox, etc., visited the Peterhoff Palace, which is the summer residence of the Czar. It was the birthday of the Empress, and the court was present at the grand palace to pay their respects and offer their congratulations to the Empress on the auspicious occasion. Commanders Murray and Beaumont left at an early hour in a special steamer in order to be presented to the Emperor, at the same time Captain Fox delivered his resolutions of congratulation. The other officers left at eleven o'clock in charge of Admiral Lissoffsky and a number of Russian officers.

A SAIL AND A DRIVE.

A sail in the Emperor's yacht gave our sailors a chance to see the sumptuous cabin of the Emperor. It was elegantly furnished in white and gold, and filled with magnificent bronzes and objects of vertu. It was such an apartment as an Emperor should occupy.

After the sail they enjoyed a fine drive. The carriages were of a peculiar character, resembling the Irish jaunting car, only much lower. They were luxuriously fitted out, of course, and exceedingly comfortable. Behind each stood a footman in the Emperor's livery. One of his Imperial Magnate's chamberlains, M. de Monkhortoff, was in attendance to accompany the party. A sumptuous collation was served up after the drive.

AT THE PALACE.

The company then proceeded to the grand palace. It contains some very fine marine paintings, and in the apartment of the Empress hangs a beautiful little painting of the yacht America, flying the "stars and stripes." Carriages were then taken, and the company proceeded to another palace where lunch was served up, ordered by the Czar. It was an elegant affair.

THE PRESENTATION.

Meanwhile Secretary Fox was presented to His Imperial Majesty, the Czar, and delivered the elegantly and tastefully engrossed resolutions of Congress, with an appropriate speech, which we published in the COMMERCIAL on Monday morning.

THE EMPEROR'S SPEECH.

The Emperor replied at less length in French, which Prince Yortchakoff translated in English to the following effect:

"The Emperor was rejoiced to see the relations of sympathy existing between Russia and the United States are appreciated in America. His Majesty added that he was convinced that this fraternity between the two nations would be perpetual and that he would use all his efforts to contribute to that end. The Emperor expressed his warm appreciation of the testimonial of affection which he had just received from the American Congress and American people. The Emperor especially thanked those who had come so far to bear him this message. He welcomed them to the soil of Russia, and terminated by saying that he never could forget the cordial reception which his fleet had received in the United States. He trusted that they would carry to America the same impression of Russia and Russians as his own officers brought back from the United States of that country and its people, which was very agreeable."

AMERICANS PRESENTED.

After this, the secretaries of Mr. Fox, Mr. Green, of China, and Mr. Laubal, of Paris, were presented, as well as Mr. John Van Buren, of N. Y. Commanders Murray and Beaumont were also presented. The Emperor received them all very courteously and cordially, conversing with them in English.

THE PUBLIC WORKS.

Later in the evening all the officers proceeded to Yelequine, an Island near St. Petersburg, where some very fine fireworks were exhibited. The crowd at that point was immense.

IMPERIAL VISIT TO THE SQUADRON.

On the following day the Emperor and suite visited the Augusta and Miantonomah. The Emperor was exceedingly animated, spoke freely with all in English, asked questions pertinent and to the point, and when he was about leaving he said to Captain Murray, Mr. Fox and the gentlemen: "Captain, I am going to visit the forts, will you not accompany me in my yacht? Get into my boat." The invitation was accepted, and Captains Murray, Fox, Beaumont and Mr. John Van Buren, went in the boat with the Emperor. The party first visited the monitor Lava, when the crew went to quarters and performed various manœuvres very handsomely.

THE EMPEROR AS A NAVAL OFFICER.

The Emperor gave all the orders in person and seemed to be as well posted as any officer present. The party afterwards visited other ships, and then proceeded to the forts, when target practice with great guns was had—and excellent practice too, as our officers say.

A ROYAL YACHTSMAN'S DINNER.

On the yacht the Emperor gave an elegant dinner in his cabin, to which he invited Mr. Fox, Commanders Murray and Beaumont, Gen. Clay and Mr. Van Buren. It was exceedingly social and pleasant.

A COMPLIMENT IN THUNDER.

When the Emperor left the Augusta, for the first time in history a salute of twenty-one guns was fired from the fifteen inch guns of the Miantonomah. The thunder of the guns rolled and echoed about the bay in grand style. The Augusta subsequently fired another salute of twenty-one guns in honor of the Emperor.

ANOTHER BANQUET.

Subsequently, at five o'clock, the officers partook of a grand banquet at the Naval Club, Cronstadt, on invitation of the officers of the Russian navy. It was a magnificent affair and passed off with great success and brilliancy. The best of feeling prevailed.

THE "DEFENDER OF SEBASTOPOL."

While in the Park of Peterhoff, our representatives met General Todleben, the great engineer, who made the brilliant defense of Sebastopol. He is a tall, handsome man, with a fine head, a little bald on the top, and encircled by a thin growth of grayish hair. His moustache, carefully trimmed, is also gray. He has a splendid eye, as bright, intelligent and full of life, as any ever seen. He was given "three rousing cheers." The General was greatly affected by this mark of esteem, and no worthier man could have been found upon whom to shower praise. And this closes our abstract of the Herald correspondent's detailed account up to August the 16th.

CLEVELAND TROTTING FAIR.

Three Trots on Saturday—The Trot between Dexter, Patchen and Butler a Farce.

The largest crowd that ever assembled on the Cleveland Driving Park was present to witness the contest between the champion trotter of the world (Dexter), George M. Patchen, Jr., and General Butler, for a purse of $2,000, the winning horse to receive $1,500, the second $300, and the third $200, the race mile heats, best three in five, in harness; but they were all sadly disappointed at the time made by these celebrities. Two other trots came off, which were more satisfactory.

The first trot was for a purse of $200, open to all except Dexter, Patchen, General Butler and Silas Rich. There were three entries for this purse, viz: James Conliss, of Cincinnati, entered b. g. Nabocklish, O. W. Dimmick, of Cincinnati, entered g. g. Pilot, and William Brown, of Louisville, entered b. g. Sir Walter. The race was mile heats, best three in five, in harness. The following is a summary of the race:

CLEVELAND DRIVING PARK, SATURDAY, Aug. 25.—Purse $200, mile heats, best three in five, in harness.

Wm. Brown en. b. g. Sir Walter	1	2	2	1	1
Jas. Conliss en. b. g. Nabocklish	2	1	1	2	2
O. W. Dimmick en. g. g. Pilot	3	3	3	dr.

Time—2:37 1-5—2:42—2:39¼—2:38 2-5—2:38¾.

The trot commenced after the first heat of the above race, and was finished before the other was over. When they were called for, B. Doble, the man who rode Dexter in his great trot at Buffalo, when he made a mile in 2:18, appeared with Dexter, and was received with loud shouts, clapping of bands and waving of handkerchiefs. Then General Butler came on the track, driven by Wm. McKeever, and received a welcome, as did also Patchen, when he appeared with James Eoff behind him. The horses seemed in fine condition, and fast time was anticipated.

First Heat.—General Butler won the pole, Patchen the middle and Dexter the outside. At the second attempt they got away pretty close together, and at the quarter pole Patchen led, Butler second and Dexter third. The latter soon afterwards went to the front, and at the quarter pole on the second turn was far ahead of the others, Patchen second, Butler third, and without changing positions they finished the heat. Patchen and Butler had a little struggle on the home stretch, but the latter broke and fell behind. Dexter won very easily, in the comparatively moderate time of 2:32 1-5.

Second Heat.—After two or three ineffectual attempts the three set out with Butler ahead, followed respectively by Patchen and Dexter. Patchen went to the front at the quarter pole, but the first round was finished by Dexter leading, Patchen second, and Butler last, the latter having broken up badly several times, which lost him whatever advantage he had. None of the horses seemed to be working hard. From the home stretch an exciting little burst ensued between Patchen and Dexter, the two going side and side for some distance, which caused a great deal of yelling and hat swinging. Dexter, however, soon got clear of the stallion, and won the heat, which was made in 2:32 2-5.

Third Heat.—On the second attempt the horses shot away almost neck and neck. Soon after getting off Butler broke up and dropped in the rear. Dexter dashed ahead with Patchen close to him, and made the first round of the heat in 1:17 1-5, trotting handsomely, but evidently not exerting himself at all, coming in with Patchen second and Butler third. When nearing the second quarter Butler made a spirited brush and closed with the others, when he again broke and behaved very badly. Dexter and Patchen made the turn above the homestretch very closely together, which created a good deal of applause, Butler following, plunging and running in turn. Patchen gave the young Hambletonian a lively tug for some distance, but an extra link being let out, sent the latter ahead, and won the heat in 2:32¾. Butler ran nearly half of this heat.

The following is a summary:

CLEVELAND DRIVING PARK, Saturday, August 25.—Premium $2,000, for trotting horses, mile heats, best three in five, in harness; open to the world; three to enter, two to start; first horse $1,500, second $300, third $200.

B. Doble entered b. g. Dexter	1	1	1
Jas. Eoff entered br. s. Geo. M. Patchen, Jr	2	2	2
Wm. McKeever entered b. g. Gen. Butler	3	3	3

Time: 2:32 1-5, 2:32 2-5, 2:32¾.

The third race was a trot between Bay Billy and Silas Rich, best two in three in harness, for $200 a side. Silas won the race in 2:39 1-5, 2:38 2-5.

POLITICAL.

MEETINGS TO COME OFF.

The Union Republicans of Cambria county will hold a mass meeting at Johnstown, on Wednesday evening. Hon. Thos. J. Bigham and Col. Montgomery are announced as the speakers.

Col. Frank Jordan, Chairman of the State Central Committee, announces that arrangements have been made, and eminent speakers secured, for holding meetings of the friends of Geary and the Union at the following times and places, viz:

Sept. 4, Bedford, Bedford county.
" 4, Kittanning, Armstrong county.
" 4, Towanda, Bradford county.
" 5, Clarion, Clarion county.
" 10, Franklin, Venango county.
" 11, Beaver, Beaver county.
" 12, Erie, Erie county.
" 12, New Castle, Lawrence county.
" 12, West Newton, Westmoreland county.
" 13, Uniontown, Fayette county.
" 17, Warren, Warren county.
" 14, Brownsville, Fayette county.
" 14, Meadville, Crawford county.
" 14, Oil City, Venango county.
" 15, Waynesburg, Greene county.
" 24, Indiana, Indiana county.
" 26, Brookville, Jefferson county.

An immense meeting was held Saturday afternoon, at Wellsboro, Tioga county, which was addressed by Gen. Simon Cameron and Hon. Lewis W. Hall, Speaker of the State Senate. More than three thousand people were present, and much enthusiasm prevailed, and the indications are that Tioga will give a largely increased majority. General Cameron and Mr. Hall design making a tour through the northern counties of the State.

John S. Mann has been renominated as a candidate for Assembly from Potter county.

The Reading Journal, published at the home of Hiester Clymer, gives the following specimen of that individual's impertinence: The Hon. Hiester Clymer, Copperhead candidate for Governor, is capable, it seems, of doing small things occasionally, as well as some of his underlings and partizans of less note. On Monday last he waited on Dr. Diller Luther, Revenue Collector of this District, and undertook to read him a lecture in a very arrogant and dictatorial style. He (Clymer) had learned, he said that Dr. L. had contributed funds towards defraying expenses of the Geary mass meeting, "an impudence," he added, "which must be stopped!" He further demanded the instant removal of Mr. John W. Auchenbach, the very efficient Chief Clerk in the Collector's Office, on the ground that Auchenbach had rendered himself especially obnoxious to the "National Union" alias Copperhead party by his active services in the Republican cause. Dr. Luther, we understand, refused to comply to this impudent demand. That Dr. L. did not then and there resent this gross insult as it deserved, is doubtless owing to the fact that he is too much of a gentleman to engage in a street brawl, and punish impudent assurance as it deserved.

Mr. Clymer, or some one for him, afterwards waited on Postmaster Briner and threatened his removal on the ground that he, or some of his clerks, had circulated the campaign life of General Geary in the Adler newspaper. Mr. Briner indignantly denied the charge, which is, of course, a base fabrication from beginning to end.

What will come of these threats remains to be seen. We advise our office-holding friends here and elsewhere to show their colors defiantly. If they are true men they will be removed anyhow, before long, on some pretext or other, and it is better to go down with colors flying, than surrender at discretion to the pirate crew who will make them "walk the plank" at the first favorable opportunity. Besides, even a life in office will not compensate for a loss of manhood and self-respect.

Miscellaneous.

A Convention of Union men was held at Lexington, Ky., on Saturday, and delegates appointed to the Philadelphia Convention. Resolutions were adopted censuring President Johnson, and endorsing the reconstruction policy of Congress.

A letter from Capt. Bingham, of Texas, says: We in Texas are on the eve of another war, which will be more desperate than the one out of which we have just emerged. The former leaders of the rebellion, save some dozen Union men elected to fill unimportant county offices, have been elected, and they are more hostile and rabid than they were during the war or before they seceded. Unless troops are kept in the most important towns there will not be a Union man left in Texas in six months. The disloyal from other States are coming in more or less every day, and thousands are returning from Mexico who went off with Price and Shelby, and a more desperate set never before infested any country. Murders are an every day occurrence. The civil law is defied and trampled upon. The freedmen are held in many parts of the State in as strict bondage as before the war, and Union men dare not speak their sentiments openly. Secret societies called the K. G. C.'s are organized all over the State, and unless the State is held under strict military rule, we will have another outbreak in less than six months.

W. B. Allison, Representative from the Dubuque, Iowa District, has been unanimously nominated to Congress for the third time. He was formerly of Ashland, Ohio.

THE LONDON PNEUMATIC DISPATCH.—This enterprise, by which small parcels are transported from one part of London to another, by means of the exhaustion of air from a tube, is familiar to our readers. It appears from an abstract report before us that one hundred and twenty tons of goods can be transported through the tube every hour, and that the cost is less than one penny (two cents) per ton per mile. The Directors anticipate large dividends from the line when completed to points outside of the city.

WE are sorry to learn that in several localities in this section of the State, cattle are dying in considerable numbers with a disease which, in the majority of cases, baffles all remedies for its relief. The animal is taken with a sore mouth, which gradually attacks the tongue until it swells to an unusual size, and commences sloughing, lumps of it peeling off and falling out until the member is entirely gone. In such condition the animal cannot, of course, eat anything and soon dies.—Lynchburg (Va.) News.

A WESTERN reporter in describing a total abstinence meeting says that "they had a most harmonious and profitable session, and retired from the hall full of the best spirits."

BY EUROPEAN MAILS.

Naval Engagement—The British American Confederation—Fenians Released in Ireland—Terrible Fire in Antwerp—The Pope to Turn the States of the Church Over to Napoleon—The Unfavorable Aspect of Affairs in Mexico, &c., &c.

NEW YORK, August 27.—The following details of foreign news are taken from the latest European mails:

VIENNA, August 17.—Intelligence has been received of an engagement in Mexican waters between the Prussian corvette and the Austrian corvette, in which the latter was victorious.

GREAT BRITAIN.—It was understood that an agreement had been come to between the British Government and the Nova Scotia and New Brunswick commissioners, with the concurrence of the Canadian Government and legislature, of the details of the confederation of British North America, and of the inter-colonial railroad. The sum is £800,000. The Irish Government has released a fresh batch of Fenians on conditions that they leave the country forthwith, and seven of them have just sailed from Londonderry for America, all of them persons who came over to Ireland, as the authorities believe, on Fenian business. Their names were Captain Michael Duffy, of the American artillery; Jas. Barnes, of Meagher's brigade; Captain E. M. Gregan, 88th New York regiment; Lieutenant Doherty, Gen. McClellan's staff; Major H. Monahan and Thomas Hines. J. O'Callaghan, a Cork prisoner of some note, has also been released on the same understanding. All the Fenians who left Derby were under thirty years of age, and one of them had nine hundred dollars in his possession.

A terrible fire broke out in the city of Antwerp on the 10th, in some warehouses where petroleum was stored. The loss is estimated at 200,000 to 300,000 florins.

The Temps has the following extraordinary story, and if correct, the Pope is on the eve of taking, in anticipation of the term fixed by the convention of September 15, a determination not wanting in originality, and which, if realized, will certainly provoke long controversies and complications of more than one kind. After having announced his intention to the Catholic world in a solemn Encyclical, his Holiness will write, report says, a letter to the Emperor Napoleon, in which he will offer to hand over to him, under the title of a vicariate, the States of the Church.

The Paris correspondent of the Independence says the concessions which the Empress Carlotta asks of Napoleon are, first a prolongation of the French troops' stay in Mexico, upon the recall of Marshall Bazaine, and an extension of the time for the payments due by the Empire to France, which amount falls due next January. Carlotta asks that the recall of the French troops be put off until April, 1867, and that Napoleon furnish a certain number of French officers to organize the new Mexican army, which is to consist of forty battalions of 1000 men each, besides the foreign legion, which consists of about 10,000 troops. She asks also a full complement of field and line officers for this army of 50,000 men. As regards Marshal Bazaine, the Empress requests that he be replaced by General Douai, because, since the Marshal's marriage, he seems to take more interest in home affairs than in the extirpation of the enemies of Maximilian's crown. The loss of Matamoras is attributed to the lack of energy on his part—moreover, the Marshal is very autocratic in his conduct; so much so as to have once so offended the Emperor by a curt reply, as to make the latter threaten to abdicate if Bazine would not make an amende honorable. This was made by the French commander, at the urgent request of M. Dani, the French Ambassador in Mexico.

Attempted Escape of Convicts.

POUGHKEEPSIE, August 17.—Information just received in this city states that a number of convicts employed in a quarry at Sing Sing prison, attacked a keeper this afternoon, and endeavored to wrest a revolver from him. He stoutly resisted, his attempts to free himself attracting the attention of other keepers, who immediately went to his assistance. In the meantime the attacked man managed to free his pistol, when he fired at his assailants, killing one of them instantly. The other keepers also fired, mortally wounding three, when the balance of the conspirators were secured. At half-past six o'clock this evening all was quiet again. It is said that two convicts escaped last night, and it is also reported that some of those who made the rush this morning are still at large. The affair caused considerable excitement, and large crowds flocked to the scene of disturbance.

Canadian Volunteers Breaking Camp.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 27.—A New York dispatch from Buffalo states that the British troops at Fort Erie are ordered to break camp on the 28th. The troops at Thorold leave on Tuesday for Toronto. The Canadian government received information that no movement is contemplated by the Fenians before February. The cavalry which has been patroling the frontier has been relieved by the gunboat Cherub and the tug Rose.

Only Five Cases in New York—Decided Abatement at the West.

NEW YORK, August 27, 6 P. M.—There were only five new cases of cholera reported in this city to-day. [Cholera statistics show only eleven cases and two deaths in this city on Saturday and on Sunday. Very few cases are reported in Brooklyn. The disease is rapidly disappearing.

ST. LOUIS, August 27.—Nine cemeteries report ninety cholera deaths on Saturday, and eleven cemeteries report seventy-three yesterday, showing a tolerably marked abatement of the disease.

NEW ORLEANS, August 27.—The cholera deaths for the forty-eight hours ending at six o'clock this morning, were only twenty-six. The cholera is abating in the city, but shows no diminution on the plantations. The negroes have conceived the idea that they are being poisoned by the whites, and refuse to take their remedies.

PHILADELPHIA, August 27.—The Ledger of this morning says: The report of the Board of Health of the cholera in this city on Saturday, shows eighteen cases and seven deaths, a large increase as compared with the report for any single day for a week past.

MEMPHIS, August 27.—Twelve cases of cholera and four deaths are reported to-day. A steady rain has been falling since yesterday morning.

President of the Texas Secession Convention Elected to U. S. Senate.

The collection of the direct tax imposed by Congress in 1861, has been suspended in Texas, until January, 1867.

The cotton crop statements continue to be generally unfavorable, but on the upper Brazos cotton is yielding well.

TELEGRAPHIC POLITICAL.

Delegates from Kentucky to the Southern Loyalists' Convention—Copper-Johnson Meeting in Boston.

KENTUCKY.

LOUISVILLE, August 27.—The radical Union men of the Fifth Congressional District held a meeting at the office of ex-Attorney General Speed, this evening, and approved the list recommended by the recent Lexington meeting for delegates to the loyal Union Convention of Philadelphia, and appointed thirty additional delegates to represent the Fifth Congressional district.

TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Collision on the Erie Road—Train and Dwellings Burned—A Whole Family Fatally Injured—Loss, $80,000.

NEW YORK, August 27.—A train with eight car loads of petroleum, on the Erie Railroad, was collided with yesterday, near Norrowsburg, Jersey. Several cars were smashed, and the petroleum caught fire and exploded, and burned the whole train. Three dwellings, a wagon shop, a carpenter shop, a hide house and five thousand feet of lumber caught fire from the burning oil and were entirely destroyed. Mr. Williams, while endeavoring to rescue his two children from one of the houses, dropped one, and while attempting to rescue it all three were fatally burned. The two children died and he is not expected to recover. Mrs. Williams, his wife, jumped from a second story window, and immediately gave birth to a child. She is not expected to live. The conductor of the train was badly burned. The loss of property by the fire is estimated at about eighty thousand dollars.

CITY MATTERS.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Mass Meeting of the "National Union Party" at the City Hall.

Last night the National Union Party of Pittsburgh, held a grand mass meeting at the City Hall, which was crowded to repletion. The Hon. Henry A. Weaver, Internal Revenue Assessor of this (22nd) Congressional District, called the meeting to order, and nominated the following gentlemen as officers, and they were unanimously approved:

President, George F. Gilmore, Esq.; Vice Presidents, General G W Cass, General G S Gallup, Colonel James P Barr, Francis Sellers, Esq., Dr. A C Murdock, Colonel Henry McCullough, Geo F Reidesell, Esq, Wm I Richardson, Esq, Major Wm McCandless, C H Paulson, Esq, William J Kountz, Esq, John McMaster, Esq, Wm M Murray, Esq, Colonel Jas K Kerr, Dr A G McQuade, Captain Frank O'Brien, John Auday, Esq, Henry Rosenbaugh, General Thomas A Rowley, Joshua Rhodes, Esq, James K Morange, Esq, A W Foster, Esq, David D Bruce, Esq, Marshall Swartzwelder, Colonel Francis Felix, Thomas J Keenan, Esq, Adam Reineman, John Hall, Esq, Andrew Humbert, Esq, John H Sawyer, Esq, John P Hunt, Esq, Wm Smith, Esq, Lewis Fleming, Esq, Wm C Gallagher, Esq. Secretaries, James W Kennedy, Esq, Captain Augustus Brauen, Robert Roach, Esq, Julius A Richter, Esq, John J Mitchell, Esq, Charles F Porter, Esq, George W Leonhardt, Chas B Strain.

Mr. Gilmore briefly acknowledged the honor of being chosen to preside on the occasion, and declared his faith in the wisdom and justice of President Johnson's policy.

Hon. Edgar A. Cowan, of Westmoreland county, was then introduced and greeted with prolonged cheers. His remarks were almost precisely the same as delivered at Greensburgh on Tuesday evening, August 21st, and published in extenso in the COMMERCIAL. In closing his speech, however, he referred to the platform of the "National Union," and the Union Republican parties. The former was imbedded in the hearts and laws of the American people, but the latter was corrupt and opposed to the idea of Union. The former was a declaration of principles based upon the Constitution as it is; the latter consisted of a series of proposed amendments to the Constitution—the product of one hundred and seven distinct propositions made by the late Congress. It was claimed to be a Republican platform, but he denied that it was so. If the Republican party, as he defined it, choose to adopt it, that would be another thing, but he was still a Republican, and he did not want the Radicals to term him an apostate while he was standing true to first principles, and they had proved recreant to them. He was ready to break a lance with any of them on this point. He briefly discussed the first two propositions in the Union Republican platform, and then retired amidst great cheering.

Ex-Governor Johnston, now of Philadelphia, was the next speaker. He declared himself in favor of national unity, and was prepared to enter into the present campaign, discarding all party lines and looking only to the reconciliation of the people of all sections of the country. He had not altered his opinion. He was opposed to slavery when it was a living thing, and he was equally opposed to fighting shadows. He said that this was, probably, his last speech in Pittsburgh, and he desired to use it in advocating the principles set forth in the platform of the "National Union Party."

Gen. Sweitzer, of Pittsburgh, was the last speaker. He said he had no doubt those before him had listened with great pleasure to the speeches already made. He came as a listener, and he was happy to say that he believed that the evening had been profitably employed. He came to give his approval and indorsement of the policy of Mr. Johnson, and it gave him the most sincere pleasure to hear Senator Cowan give an unanswerable argument that that policy was identical with Mr. Lincoln's. The representative of this district in Congress was opposed to Mr. Johnson's policy. His (Sweitzer's) name was now before the people as a candidate for Congress, and if elected he would support the President's policy. He had fought in the war, and it would not now do to tell him that the Radicals were going to accomplish what the South failed in.

The meeting then adjourned.

CRICKET MATCH.

The Olympic Again Defeated by the Exchange Club.

A very interesting game of cricket was played yesterday afternoon between the Olympic and Exchange club of this city, at the Union Skating Park, Allegheny. The Exchange club is mainly composed of citizens of the Ninth ward, who have their headquarters at John Tyler's Exchange. The game yesterday was witnessed by a large crowd, a fair proportion of those in attendance being ladies. The batting of Whitesides, of the Olympic, and the bowling of Bevins and Baggins, of the Exchange, were particularly admired. The game was well contested, and resulted in a victory for the Exchange. The following is the score:

Rowdies at Camp Meeting.

On Saturday night a number of druken rowdies visited the camp meeting which is being held near Tarentum, and disturbed the quiet and peace of the gathering by their riotous demonstrations. One of the rioters named George Rutter, from Westmoreland county, who has made himself quite notorious, and who recently assaulted and seriously injured a minister at Freeport, was conspicuous in the disturbance. He defied the officers of the ground, and in the most insulting manner dared them to arrest him. Sheriff Stewart, who was on the ground, was called upon, and after a desperate resistance finally effected the arrest of Rutter. Two others who were named Holmes Wallace and William Orris were also arrested. Alderman Humbert, of the First ward of this city, was also on the grounds, and the parties were taken before him on Saturday morning, a charge of riot having been preferred against them. In default of fifteen hundred dollars bail, they were all brought to this city yesterday and committed to jail.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—To-night Mr. Barrett will present for the first time in this country, the beautiful new comedy entitled "Fortune's Favorite," which is now in the height of its popularity in Europe. Mr. Barrett sustains the character of Annesly, the hero of the play.

THE VARIETIES.—John Brougham's extravaganza, "Pocahontas, ye Gentle Savage," was well performed last evening, and attracted a large audience. The play will be repeated this evening, in addition to the usual variety performance.

Endowment of Pittsburg Female College—Liberal Subscriptions.

Bishop Simpson addressed a very large audience last evening in Christ's M. E. Church, on the "Centenary Interests of the Church." The talented divine spoke most eloquently on the subject chosen, much of which had reference to the educational institutions in charge of the church. While he plead most earnestly on behalf of all the colleges sustained chiefly by the members of the Methodist church, his remarks were applied by his audience solely to the Pittsburgh Female College, which has, and justly, too, the first place in their affections. At the conclusion of the address, the following liberal subscriptions were made, which augur most auspiciously for the movement having in view the endowment of Pittsburgh Female College: S. M. Kier, Esq., subscribed $10,000; the children of Thomas Dickson, deceased, to endow a Dickson professorship, $10,000; Mrs. Margary Fawcett, to endow a Fawcet professorship, $10,000; an unknown friend, $5,000; a lady friend, $25—total subscriptions, $35,025. This is a good beginning of a good work, and it is designed to prosecute it until perfected.

The ladies of Pittsburgh and vicinity, friendly to the cause of education, are invited to attend a meeting at the chapel of the Pittsburgh Female College, on Thursday afternoon, at three o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a Ladies' Centenary Educational Association. All ladies who feel an interest in education are cordially invited to be present.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—Coroner Clawson held an inquest last evening on the body of James Williams, who died on Sunday night at his residence on South Avenue, Allegheny, from injuries received at the National Planing Mill, on Lacock street. The deceased had formerly been employed at the mill, and on Wednesday morning last visited it for the purpose of making a door for his house. While cutting one of the panels at a circular saw, he inadvertently drew it over the top of the saw, which was revolving at the rate of four thousand revolutions per minute, when it struck one of the teeth, and was thrown back with great force, striking the unfortunate man in the abdomen. He walked home after the accident, and his condition was not considered critical until a short time before his death. The deceased was fifty-six years of age, and leaves a wife and daughter to mourn his loss. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts in the case.

Adventures of Travel—Fearful Accident

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 27, 1866.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

Some two or three weeks since, I left Chicago for St. Paul, Minnesota, where I found a warm and delightful atmosphere, the thermometer varying from 70 to 80 degrees fahrenheit—the summer months being as warm in that latitude (40 deg. 50 north) as in the city of New York, about four degrees southward. I returned by the way of the La Crosse and Milwaukee railroad, and proceeded North to Green Bay, thence to Escanaba, Michigan, 46 degrees north latitude: Found a cold, chilly rain prevailing, with the thermometer at 50 degrees fahrenheit; the watery clouds proceeding southward from Lake Superior, some sixty miles to the northward. Wishing to get into a warmer latitude, I proceeded southward to Chicago, 360 miles, where the summer temperature is about the same as at Pittsburgh and St. Paul. I left Chicago on Saturday afternoon by the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad, the weather still continuing cold for the season. I reached Alliance, Ohio, at 6¼ A. M., and stopped for breakfast; then proceeded at about the rate of thirty miles an hour for Pittsburgh.

On approaching Columbiana, about sixty-five miles westward, the wheel of one of the forward cars broke and the three passenger cars were precipitated down an embankment of twenty or thirty feet in height. The first crash was terrific, but before the passengers had time to think of the danger they found themselves rolling with fearful plunges from side to side of the broken cars. At every somersault I hoped that would be lost; but not so. The cars must have turned over three times, all in the space of a few seconds.

When the motion ceased a sudden cry was heard from several ladies, "my child is killed," "my child is killed." As to my ownself I began to think it was the last railroad journey I should ever undertake, but felt anxious, while rapidly turning, to be informed of the nature of the dreadful accident. Soon we were released from the cars by being lifted out of the end door, the car lying on its side. Those that were most seriously hurt were laid on the grass, while others and the neighboring farmers rendered every assistance in their power. How far the managers of the railroad were to blame, I will leave others to say, but it is evident the earthwork on the high embankments are too narrow, and that the stoves, water tanks and sharp seats attached to the cars are all extremely dangerous, as well as the glass windows.

Believing that we are far from adopting, as yet, the best modes of saving life and limb, on our public conveyances, I would suggest to the humane inventor some mode of lessening danger when traveling by land or water. While severely bruised, I remain

Yours, &c., J. D.

FROM STEUBENVILLE.

Meeting of the Soldiers and Sailor's League—General McCook Opposed to Sending Delegates to Either Cleveland or Pittsburgh—The League Thinks Differently.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Commercial.

STEUBENVILLE, August 26, 1866.

We have a Soldiers' and Sailors' League in this city, which meets on Saturday evening of each week, to deliberate regarding the various subjects affecting the interests of the soldier and sailor, and to establish a concert of action on questions concerning the country at large.

Nobody feels more interested in the present aspect of political affairs, than he who has periled his life for the cause of "liberty and impartial justice," and for "the preservation of our common country."

During last evening's session of the League, the subject of sending delegates to the "Convention" in Pittsburgh on the 25th of September, came before the meeting. General Anson G. McCook, who is also President of the League, thought "no action should be taken, and the League should not be represented either at Cleveland or Pittsburgh." Good soldiers were not to be entrapped in that way, and a committee of three was appointed to draft resolutions defining the political status of the "Soldiers' and Sailors' League of Steubenville." The committee will report at next meeting.

General McCook, whose name is appended to the call for the Cleveland Convention, stated that he indorses the "Philadelphia Convention" and Andy Johnson's policy. His statement was received with decided indications of disapproval, and a number of speeches were made sustaining Congress and the Pittsburgh Convention. It is very evident that McCook stands almost alone among the soldiers of Jefferson county as an indorser of "My Policy."

I send you the above as a straw to show that although a long list of glittering titles are appended to the indorsement of "my policy," they will not drag with them the men who carried the musket, and who understand equally well how to use either bullet or ballot. With such evidence, we can "trust in God," and feel

"That conquer we must
For our cause it is just."

JEFFERSON.

EX-VICE PRESIDENT HAMLIN.—The Boston Commonwealth says: Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, we have reason to say, is preparing a speech for delivery in Maine prior to the State election, in which he will take unequivocal ground for the Congressional policy. It is not improbable it will be made in Bangor on the night before the election.

On the above the Traveller, of Saturday, remarks: Mr. Hamlin went to Maine yesterday, and will return next week. We understand that he is kept from taking the stump by a desire to protect his subordinates in the Boston Custom House from removal. In case of his dismissal he would probably go at once to Pennsylvania and Ohio, to take part in the canvass there.

It is announced that Mr. Joe Dwyer has disposed of the Coshocton Age establishment to Captain T. W. Collier, late of the 80th Ohio Regiment, who will assume duty at once as editor and publisher of that paper.

DIED:

FOSTER—On Monday evening at 8 o'clock, MARY E., wife of John W. Foster.

Notice of the funeral will be given in to-morrow's papers.

WILLIAMS—On Sunday at 4 o'clock P. M., JAMES WILLIAMS, aged 56 years.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, South avenue, Allegheny, TO-DAY (Tuesday) at 10 o'clock A. M. Friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend.

RESTORATION.

The Policy of the Union Party to Restore the National Union.

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, two thirds of both Houses concurring, That the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three fourths of the said Legislatures, shall be valid as a part of the Constitution, namely:

"ARTICLE —, Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States, and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States. Nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

"Section 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed; but whenever the right to vote at any election for electors of President and Vice President, or for United States Representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in that State.

"Section 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; but Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

"Section 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for the payment of pensions and bounties for service in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned, but neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave, but all such debts, obligations, and claims shall be illegal and void."

SENATOR COWAN AND THE NEW ORLEANS MASSACRE.

Senator COWAN has taken the stump in his own vindication and the cause to serve which he deliberately betrayed his party and proved recreant to the principles which he pledged himself to support and defend. We have already, in these columns, referred to his present radical Southern views as compared with his radical abolitionism of six years ago, and when he says to-day that he has not changed, he commits a grave offense against the truth, and shows his unworthiness to become the leader of an intelligent community. But his most flagrant attempt to hood-wink and deceive the people was in regard to the New Orleans massacre, which is the first bloody fruit of the Presidential scheme of reconstruction, which Mr. COWAN supports, and which means the superiority of the traitor over the loyal man. The Senator, knowing that as soon as the particulars of the dreadful massacre of Union men, on account of their Union sentiments and practices, became known to his reflecting constituents, they would put their condemnation upon the President's policy, took the earliest occasion to make a speech at his home in Greensburg in which he deliberately and shamefully falsified the truth. In that speech he referred to the process of reconstruction in Louisiana, the re-convening of the Convention of 1864, the negro parade, and then added the following:

"On their way a negro jostled against a white man and the result was a riot. That is all there is about that affair."

And then a little further on, after an apology for President JOHNSON, he quoted General SHERIDAN as saying that the members of the Convention were "political agitators," in justification, we suppose, of the course of the rioters—the Senator's friends. This speech was delivered August 21.

The recently published dispatches of General SHERIDAN on this lamentable occurrence have obliterated any impression that may have been made by the Senator's misrepresentation. In the dispatch of the 1st of August the General says that the Mayor suppressed the Convention by the police force, "in a manner so unnecessary and atrocious as to compel me to say it was murder." In the dispatch of the 2d he says: "It was no riot; it was an absolute massacre by the police which was not exceeded in murderous cruelty by that of Fort Pillow." The dispatch of the 6th, being more at length, details the particulars of what he continues to denominate the "massacre." It may be said, however, that when the Senator spoke but garbled portions of the dispatches had been published. But it must be recollected that he spoke as one possessing full knowledge, for he said "that is all there is about that affair." Fifteen days had intervened between the reception of the last dispatch and the delivery of the Senator's speech, and being the confidential friend and adviser of the President, and in fact the host of the President's Convention at Philadelphia, it is not too much to say that he was as fully advised of the true state of affairs in New Orleans and the complete failure of the President's policy there, as the people are to-day.

What a commentary this is upon the moral and political obliquity of Mr. COWAN. Two or three hundred loyal men are killed and wounded while in the exercise of a Constitutional right; the men who act the part of demons are unrepentant traitors, they are led on by Mr. COWAN's reconstructed friend, who derives his power and authority from a special pardon from the President; Northern men are proscribed by traitors whom Mr. COWAN has aided to warm into life again; the spirit of rebellion is rampant once more, and the public test applauds treason and denounces loyalty, and all this and the thousand other things will follow after them, Mr. COWAN disposes of in half a breath as unworthy of notice except by way of remembering that the members of the Convention were "political agitators." As the voluntary apologist of the atrocious massacre, he will sink deeper and deeper, as the facts are more clearly known and understood.

SICKNESS IN THE SOUTH.

In the southern counties of Alabama, as we learn from a local paper, sickness is prevailing to an unusual extent. It is said to be almost universal. A paper in Rome, Georgia, also says that nearly every person in a town that it names in the vicinity is sick with fever, with the sad addition that if they do not die of sickness they will be starved, as the crops in the vicinity are all burnt up.

The writer in Alabama writes in the midst of the calamity in the following morbid strain:

"Add to this the depressing influence of bad crops, the ravages of worms upon the cotton, and the general impoverishment of our people, and we may well exclaim as we heard a gentleman on yesterday, 'Oh, Lord, how long, how long till these calamities be overpast?' It would seem that the sad condition of the Southern people would be enough to soften the malignity of our enemies themselves. But while they roll in wealth and prosperity created by the war, they seem intent on bringing down upon us still heavier calamities. Political agitation and revolution, set on foot by Northern Radicals, and carried out by some of the lowest Southern renegades, impend continued strife and uneasiness."

This paragraph is, we fear, but too true a photograph, both of the condition and the mind of many Southern people—both bad enough. There is no such malignity here as this foolish writer prates of. It exists no where but in the deluded mind of himself and of those like him, who get their knowledge of the loyal people of the North from their own passions, kept in a state of morbid excitement by the base misrepresentations of a party press. The attributing of sickness, bad crops, and cotton worms, to their imaginary enemies, is but the absurdity of wild and senseless passion. We might with reason look for some softening on their own part, under these multiplied calamities. The mixture of piety and madness in the above utterance is pitiable.

POLICE OUTRAGES IN NEW YORK AND NEW ORLEANS.

The New York Times is sensitive about some things in some places. It is incensed about the police clubbing inoffensive citizens in New York, and gives a number of cases that have lately occurred in that city, for which complaints were made before the Police Commissioners. It then hopelessly adds:

"But a dozen complaints in cases of the kind are made before us to one that is made before the commissioners, for there is little expectation of getting justice or satisfaction from this body when a policeman has been guilty of outrage toward a citizen." And it further adds:

"There are formal charges against the Metropolitan Police organization at this time of a character not calculated to increase the confidence of the public in that body; and it would be as well for its members, and for those who are responsible for its conduct, to take means of strengthening, rather than destroying, such regard for the efficiency and honor as yet exists."

In all this we fully sympathise with the Times, on general principles of morals and good government. But at the same time it reminds us strongly of the greater outrages committed by the police on inoffensive citizens of New Orleans, as reported twenty days ago to President JOHNSON, by that faithful official and competent witness, General SHERIDAN. And we have no doubt that the violence in New Orleans, that has come to the public eye of the whole nation, is a much smaller proportion of what is going on, in frightful details, in the South, than one to a dozen, as indicated by public complaints in New York.

If the reader will review the letter of information from General SHERIDAN to the President, dated August 6th, he will be struck with the parallel between the two cases, as to their iniquity, only that the New Orleans atrocity is a thousand fold the greater in magnitude and in danger to the country. In New York, the cases were exceptional and the result of ungoverned individual passion; in New Orleans they were in accord with the prevailing rebel sentiment against all Union people. The declaration of General SHERIDAN is that proceedings against the guilty perpetrators of the wholesale murders have not been taken. And his opinion is that if not prevented by the strong arm of military power, like atrocities would be perpetrated in other places, under the influence of the same rebel passions.

We, therefore, not only agree with the Times in suggesting that it would be well for "those who are responsible" to discharge their duties in the case, but in behalf of the peace and unity of the country, we may even demand that organized and malignant lawlessness in the Southern States shall be restrained by the arm of the Government, if it would strengthen rather than destroy such regard for its efficiency and honor as yet exist. We thank our cotemporary for this argument, and trust it will see the justness of our application of it.

The Government is notified by General SHERIDAN, its own and its justly trusted official on the ground, of the extent and intensity of this malignant contagion. If it were restricted to New Orleans alone, it would be a comparatively small matter, and we might dismiss it almost as carelessly as Mr. COWAN did in his Greensburg speech, by saying, "that is all there is of it." But the Government is officially informed that it is fearfully otherwise, and its action in the premises to their full extent, is anxiously looked for.

SENATOR COWAN'S OPINION OF ANDREW JOHNSON.

On the 15th day of April last, on hearing of President LINCOLN's death, Senator COWAN suddenly left Greensburg for Washington. On his way to the depot, a gentleman whose name will not be kept from the public if the statement is denied, asked him where he was going. The Senator's reply was: 'I'm going to Washington to assist in preventing that d—d beast, ANDY JOHNSON becoming President."

This was Senator COWAN's language, and it will be recognized as entirely characteristic. It no doubt truly reflected his opinion of Mr. JOHNSON. The Senator went to Washington, and ever since the two have been friends and mutual admirers. Which is the Beauty, and which the Beast, the reader will decide for himself.

What a depth of degradation is here disclosed! The Senator, whose words were so shocking and yet so characteristic, is now on the stump defending Mr. JOHNSON as a patriot and statesman—the recipient of his confidence, and dispenser of his patronage. Let Mr. JOHNSON not flatter himself Senator COWAN did not so paint him, but let him know for a certainty that he has taken into his confidence one who could find no language but that we have quoted to fitly express his detestation for him.

THE STATE—THE PROSPECT.

Within the last few days we have seen numerous letters, and conversed with intelligent gentlemen who have lately been in different parts of the State, and they all agree in representing that the Republicans are becoming thoroughly aroused and deeply in earnest, in view of the gravity of the issue. They represent, furthermore, that the only effect of the Philadelphia Convention has been to arouse the loyal masses by convincing them of the presence of a real danger. One gentleman writes, (and his language may be taken as a fair sample of what the others write,) "I have not seen our friends so deeply moved since the days of Sumter. There is not a JOHNSON man among them." On another point an intelligent gentleman writes as follows: "Thoughtful men are becoming alarmed at the situation of affairs growing out of the President's course, particularly in view of his revolutionary speech to the Committee of the Philadelphia Convention. Men are asking themselves—what will public securities, what will anything that is valuable now, be worth, if such a spirit be allowed to get the upper hand? So far as my observation extends, the people who stood by the Government in the days of the rebellion, fully realize the necessity of acting in concert now, and I believe the State will be carried overwhelmingly for GEARY and against CLYMER, backed by COWAN and JOHNSON."

The tenor of our advices from every quarter is similar to the above. The opposition, however, are active, and profess some degree of hopefulness. To Union Republicans we have only to say—from this time forth do your whole duty, and the State and country, with all their precious interests, will be saved.

DEATH OF DEAN RICHMOND.

The death of DEAN RICHMOND will in various ways be felt as would that of hardly any other citizen of the State of New York. He was one of the most positive of men. Unlearned and unpolished, his success in whatever he undertook was so certain and so great that those who knew him best did not hesitate to name him in connection with the highest positions in the land. The school wherein he learned what he knew was that of experience, and his strong sense was a safe reliance. The New York Central Railroad Company will feel sorely his loss,—and the party to which he belonged, rather which more truly, in a local sense, belonged to him, will be under the necessity of looking for another head.

THE attempt, proceeding from Missouri, to procure the appointment of FRANK BLAIR Secretary of War, is a part of a scheme for crushing out the loyalists of that State by executive power. In view of this, much apprehension exists there. As a "follower" of the Philadelphia Convention, nothing could be more appropriate.

THERE is reason for believing the President has determined to abolish the Freedmen's Bureau. Recent orders look significantly that way. This done, the freedmen would be at the mercy of their late masters—a consummation perfectly consistent with the spirit and purpose of the Philadelphia Convention.

GENERAL DIX was extensively talked up at Philadelphia as the JOHNSON-Democratic candidate for Governor in New York. He is WEED's choice, but is not particularly enthusiastic himself about running. The General's ideas are higher. Recorder HOFFMAN is also on the slate.

SIX years ago Senator COWAN fought the Democrats and the Democrats fought him—they didn't like each other a bit. Since then the Democrats haven't changed, so they say, and the Senator says that he hasn't changed either—yet they are all training together now, some how or other. On which side is the lie?

"MY POLICY."

Interpretation Written in Blood

New Orleans Massacre.

TESTIMONY OF GEN. SHERIDAN.

LET NO MAN LONGER DOUBT.

The following quotations from official dispatches from General PHILIP H. SHERIDAN, to the President and General GRANT, need no comment:

NEW ORLEANS August 1, 1866.

To U. S. Grant:

"In the meantime official duties called me to Texas, and the Mayor of the city during my absence, suppressed the Convention by the use of the police force, and in so doing, ATTACKED THE MEMBERS OF THE CONVENTION AND A PARTY OF TWO HUNDRED NEGROES, WITH FIREARMS, CLUBS AND KNIVES, IN A MANNER SO UNNECESSARY AND ATROCIOUS AS TO COMPEL ME TO SAY THAT IT WAS MURDER. About forty whites and blacks were thus killed, and about one hundred and sixty wounded. Everything is now quiet, but I deem it best to maintain military supremacy in the city for a few days until the affair is fully investigated. I believe the sentiment of the general community is great regret at this unnecessary cruelty, AND THAT THE POLICE COULD HAVE MADE ANY ARRESTS THEY SAW FIT WITHOUT SACRIFICING LIVES. P. H. SHERIDAN,
Major-General Commanding.

NEW ORLEANS, August 2, 1866.

THE MORE INFORMATION I OBTAIN OF THE AFFAIR OF THE 30th IN THIS CITY, THE MORE REVOLTING IT BECOMES. IT WAS NO RIOT; IT WAS AN ABSOLUTE MASSACRE BY THE POLICE, WHICH WAS NOT EXCELLED IN MURDEROUS CRUELTY BY THAT OF FORT PILLOW. IT WAS A MURDER WHICH THE MAYOR AND POLICE OF THE CITY PERPETRATED WITHOUT THE SHADOW OF A NECESSITY. FURTHERMORE, I BELIEVE IT WAS PREMEDITATED, AND EVERY INDICATION POINTS TO THIS. I recommend the removing of this bad man. I believe it would be hailed with the sincerest gratification by two thirds of the population of the city. There has been a feeling of insecurity on the part of the people here on account of this man, which is now so much increased that the safety of life and property does not rest with the civil authority, but the military.

[Signed] P. H. SHERIDAN,
Major General Commanding.

NEW ORLEANS, August 3, 1866.

To U. S. Grant:

Unless good judgment is exercised there will be an EXODUS OF NORTHERN CAPITAL AND UNION MEN which will be injurious to the city and the whole country. I will remove the Military Governor in a day or two. I again strongly advise that some disposition be made to change the present Mayor, as I believe it would do more to restore confidence than anything that could be done. If the present Governor could be changed also it would not be amiss.

[Signed] P. H. SHERIDAN,
Major General Commanding.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 3, 1866.

To Andrew Johnson, President of the U. S.:

The remote cause was the bitter and antagonistic feeling which has been growing in this community since the advent of the present Mayor, who, in the organization of his police force, selected MANY DESPERATE MEN, and some of them known murderers. People of clear views were overawed by want of confidence in the Mayor and fear of the "Thugs," many of whom he had selected for his police force.

* * * * * *

It is useless to attempt to disguise the hostility that exists on the part of a great many here towards NORTHERN MEN; and this unfortunate affair has so precipitated matters that there is now a test of what shall be the status of Northern men, WHETHER THEY CAN LIVE HERE WITHOUT BEING IN CONSTANT DREAD OR NOT, WHETHER THEY CAN BE PROTECTED IN LIFE AND PROPERTY, AND HAVE JUSTICE IN THE COURTS.

*

From the testimony of wounded men and others who were inside the building, the policemen opened an INDISCRIMINATE FIRE UPON THE AUDIENCE until they had emptied their revolvers, when they retired and those inside barricaded the doors. The door was broken in and the firing again commenced, when many of the colored and white people either escaped through the door or were passed out by the policemen inside, BUT AS THEY CAME OUT THE POLICEMEN WHO FORMED THE CIRCLE NEAREST THE BUILDING FIRED UPON THEM, AND THEY WERE AGAIN FIRED UPON BY THE CITIZENS THAT FORMED THE OUTER CIRCLE.

Many of those wounded and taken prisoners, and others who were prisoners and not wounded, were fired upon by their captors and by citizens. THE WOUNDED WERE STABBED WHILE LYING ON THE GROUND, AND THEIR HEADS BEATEN WITH BRICK BATS. In the yard of the building whither some of the colored men had escaped, and partially secreted themselves, they were fired upon and killed or wounded by policemen. SOME MEN WERE KILLED AND WOUNDED SEVERAL SQUARES FROM THE SCENE. MEMBERS OF THE CONVENTION WERE WOUNDED BY THE POLICEMEN WHILE IN THEIR HANDS AS PRISONERS, SOME OF THEM MORTALLY.

*

As to whether the civil authorities can mete out ample justice to the guilty parties on both sides, I must say it is my opinion unequivocally that they cannot. Judge Abel, whose course I have closely watched for nearly a year, I now consider one of the most dangerous men that we have here to the peace and quiet of the city.

P. H. SHERIDAN,
Major General Commanding.

FIGHTING OVER THEIR FODDER.

The doctrine approved by Mr. COWAN, that the weakness of the negro must resign his rights and interests before the strength of the white man, is having an illustration just now, in a very small way, in South Carolina. A correspondent of the Times, resident in South Carolina, who has recently traveled extensively through the State, presents the case candidly and in full. After speaking of the extremely gloomy prospects of the cotton crop, on account of excessive drought, and expressing the opinion prevalent, that the provisions raised will not supply the wants of the population further than till the first of March, he adds:

"Corn is a dead failure; nubbins are the rule and a full ear a rarity. The disaster is so general that on all sides the planters are cutting down their corn for fodder, and this, in some cases, has given rise to serious disputes. In most of the contracts between the planters and the freedmen, fodder seems to have been omitted from the list of field products to be divided with the laborers, and these latter now claim their share of it as part of the bargain as they understood it. With a heavy corn crop, it is probable that no question would have been raised with reference to the fodder; but, as it is, each freedman's share of the corn will amount to a mere trifle, and it is not surprising that he should look to other sources to make up the deficiency. It is believed that the question of the division of the crops at the close of the harvest will give rise to so much trouble that the system will be universally discarded next year, and the plan of specific wages, payable weekly, substituted instead."

But how is the laborer to live till next year's arrangement, certainly a better one than the present, goes into operation? It is a hard case for both parties, but surely the men who did their best to raise the corn, ought to have their share of the "nubbins" to keep themselves from starvation. It is easy to see how this planters' process might be made to cheat the poor laborer out of full ears as well as nubbins. The strong white man has only to call the whole fodder, and fodder is not "nominated in the bond," and so the lion SHYLOCK may take the whole, while the weak negro must live on hopes of a better bargain or a surer bond next year. We are not surprised that the division of the crops at the end of the harvest should be looked forward to, as the writer says, with expectation of "much trouble." We fail, however, to see, according to his account of the planters' process, where the division is in the case. And if the freedmen's share, at the best, under an honest division, would be a "mere trifle," the greater the need is that that trifle should not be cruelly wrested from him. But Mr. COWAN's doctrine approves it.

MUM AND BRAG.

The members of the Quaker meeting in Philadelphia are indemnifying themselves for their constrained taciturnity, by abundant outpourings of speech since the meeting was dismissed. And they say a great many queer things, and things quite inconsistent with each other, through an effort to adapt them to different political climates and localities and to the endless diversities of opinion which they desire to conciliate. But there is one prominent feature of speech in which they evince a noticeable uniformity, that is, in bragging of their prospects. This is the common feature among them, North and South. Their great strength and their loving unity are the two notes of their campaign song. Their party is not only a band of brethren, but a mighty host.

This style of talk will do very well to begin with. They are yet in the honeymoon of their extraordinary wedlock, and any other than sweet, cooing fellowship would be highly indecorous. And, in fact, it already begins to be whispered, rather loudly, that the parties sought to be fused or amalgamated are not wholly harmonious and far from unanimous in the business. In the Democratic party, "an element on the verge" opposes it, and in the Republican Union party, nothing but the extremest and narrowest verge coalesces in it. Even the conglomerate nominations don't hold together long enough to be printed in the party papers, without the disclaimer of some honest nominee.

Brag, according to the homely proverb, is a good dog, but Hold-fast is better. The letting go of mere party name and organization is sometimes a mere trifle, but the abandonment of long cherished and strongly advocated principles can seldom be effected without bringing up inquiry as to the cause of it. This inquiry is often attempted to be forestalled by extra zeal in the new position taken, and by copious outpourings of contempt on those who maintain the old one. In this category we place the boastful and vituperative language of some of the leading men who have embraced the new party formed in Philadelphia. Some of those, who were Republicans, entirely outstrip, in these respects, those who have stood, always, in opposition to the Republican Union doctrines. This does not surprise us, for it is human nature all over, as we have said above. Nor does it surprise us that they try to justify their reversal of position under the cover of amazing love for their new alliance, for that, too, is the uniform way.

Neither does this boastful style in the new converts, nor their Parthian arrows shot back, in their retreat, at the Union party, at all disturb or alarm us. If we have any judgment in human nature, their speech since the meeting was out, has been less hopeful to their deceptive purposes, than their silence when it was in. It gives to the intelligent, thinking people a better insight into the pernicious scheme, and both arouses and directs the Union effort to the frustration of the foul conspiracy against popular representation in the Government.

MR. STANTON'S HEAD.

Under the influence of the Philadelphia Convention, the Southern temper is developing in sweetness so rapidly that it is hardly possible to keep track of all the evidences of amiability. The following is among a thousand or more proofs which are reaching us of the gentleness of the Southern heart, and the fitness of the Southern people to become masters of ceremonies throughout the land. It is scarcely necessary to say it is from the editorial columns of the Richmond Times. Mr. STANTON must regard it as precious evidence of the good will the reconstructed bear him:

"We incline to the opinion that until the head of Stanton drops into the basket the work of reform will continue in a very unsatisfactory state. It was this disguised Radical and spy upon the President who removed conservative gentlemen like Ord and Patrick and scattered over the South a most abundant and pernicious crop of Howards and Terrys. This man, now so universally odious that compassion is said to make the President keep him in a place of security, labored for months to scourge the South with Radical officials as hateful and loathsome as the frogs and lice of Egypt. There is no place where the ugly, Gorgon-like head of Stanton would look half so well as on the end of a pikestaff."

ANOTHER STEP.

The restrictions heretofore placed on the shipments of arms and ammunition into the South have been removed, and the Southern people may now arm themselves to any extent. The question will occur to the mind of every observing man—is this a part of "My Policy?"

AS LONG AS THEY CAN GET IT.—This is the established rule, laid down by market dealers, for exacting exorbitant prices for their commodities. Under this rule, the reign of high prices will continue as long as the people will pay them. Nothing is plainer than this. And it is scarcely to be expected that those who profit by the arrangement will be the first to modify it. A New York paper—for the complaint is a wide spread one—suggests as the only remedy, that people exercise some temporary self denial in the articles of butter, butchers' meat, &c., declining to purchase or purchasing sparingly, till some yielding of prices is effected. This would be sure to remedy the evil, but will people adopt it?

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

The oil house at Aurora, Illinois, and eight hundred gallons of oil, belonging to the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, has been completely destroyed by fire. Insured.

The Cincinnati Common Council has referred the question of the purchase or non-purchase of the gas works of that city to the citizens, who will hold an election on the subject next October. The gas company desires to renew its contract for five years and reduce the price from $3 25 to $2 50 per 1,000 cubic feet.

There is a perfect stagnation of business at St. Louis, Mo., on account of the cholera. No country buyers are arriving, although in some lines goods are offered below New York prices.

When the Atlantic Cable expedition was at Valentia, just before starting across the ocean, the correspondent of a London journal writes that the greatest difficulty was had in obtaining labor. Food was very cheap—fowls ten cents each, eggs six cents per dozen, and milk two cents per quart, but the working classes in that section combined to extort the most exorbitant wages, demanding at the rate of twenty shillings sterling per day and food. If food were dear, many of them would starve, and as it is, large numbers eke out a precarious existence.

The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes to that paper: "While I write the boys are calling out extras, with European news of last night, by the cable. The public that buy, however, pronounce the thing a sell, inasmuch as there is not a syllable dated to-day. It was but the other day that to receive news two, or even three days old from the other side of the Atlantic, was deemed a marvellous thing, but nobody is satisfied now unless it is born on the same day."

A great fair is to be held at St. Louis, for the relief of suffering Southern families. It commences on the 25th prox., and a variety of prizes will be contended for. The list includes real estate, diamond jewelry, watches, etc., and looks exceedingly like the announcement of a "gift enterprise" affair.

Milwaukee (Wisconsin) boasts of a population exceeding fifty-five thousand souls. Her importations last season amounted to fifty thousand tons of Eastern merchandise. The wheat receipts were over twelve millions of bushels. Detroit, Michigan, claims over twenty-four thousand population. Both are vigorous and growing places. We welcome them among the great family of American cities.

The Cincinnati Enquirer doesn't think that people at a distance should stay away from that city on account of cholera, which is confined entirely to a few locations, and to a certain class of citizens. There has not, it says, been a single case of the cholera at any of the hotels in the city, and while the number of cases is gradually diminishing, the sanitary regulations adopted by the authorities are such as will probably prevent any increase, if not speedily expel the disease altogether.

The telegraph system as it now stands leaves a vacancy between Calcutta, in India, and Canton, in China. The British wires work to Calcutta, and run into the country from there. The Russian line runs north of these points, and strikes the western continent at Behring's straits. In order to fill the interval and make the wires continuous along Southern Asia, a company has been formed in this country with a capital of $1,000,000, and Dr. McGowan has gone to place the wires from Canton to Hong Kong, thence to Amoy, Foochow, Ningpo, Shanghae, and thence to the main wire now being constructed by Mr. Collins across Behring's straits.

The Mobile Advertiser says that some of the "boys" in that office recently got up a "bogus" return of prizes in the Alabama State Lottery, and handed them in for publication. In the list they arranged the $20,000 prize so that it fell to a brother typo. When the printer glanced his eye over the "copy" and saw his ticket had drawn the "big prize," he suddenly dropped his "stick," put on his coat in great haste, and rushed frantically around the town, telling everybody of his good luck. Imagine his feelings when the bona fide list came in, and he discovered that he had been sold just $20,000 worth.

The Detroit (Michigan) Advertiser says that city is the greatest land warrant market in the world. One banking firm alone has disposed of nearly three thousand land warrants—prices of the College Land Scrip—since last March.

A letter writer at Hong Kong states that when a man becomes famous for his forgeries, the Chinese authorities do not incarcerate him in prison to suppress the evil, but the bankers and wealthy men make up a purse sufficiently large to buy him off, and bind him not to instruct others.

A physician in St. Louis, a few days ago, gave a certificate that a certain woman had died of cholera, but when the coffin was sent to the house it was discovered that she was still alive. The doctor confessed that he had committed a blunder, having never seen the woman, but took the word of a policeman and certified accordingly.

The Russian telegraphic cable between America and Asia is probably now being laid. The U. S. steamer Saginaw is stated to be at Victoria, Vancouver's Island, having been detailed to accompany the expedition for laying the Russian telegraph, in accordance with the provisions of an act of Congress passed during the late session.

PERSONAL.

—Mr. Charles Matthews, of London, better known in Philadelphia and other principal cities as Lizzie Weston Davenport, the divorced wife of the comedian "Dolly" Davenport, has become a member of the Church of England, and is now a pious woman, in the truest and best sense of the word—so say the London critics.

—"My son," said an affectionate mother to her son, who resided at a distance and expected in a short time to be married, "you are getting very thin." "Yes, mother," he replied, "I am, and when you see me next, I think you will see my rib."

—Hon. Richard C. McCormack, now Governor of Arizona, is still a very young man. He hails from New York city, where he was once a local newspaper reporter, and afterwards became editor of the organ of the Young Men's Christian Association in that city. When United States Senator Nye went out to Nevada as Governor, young McCormack went with him. He became Secretary of Arizona, and is now Governor. He is a fine scholar and ready orator.

—A Paris correspondent says that very recently a young and coquettish American belle was riding in the Bois de Boulogne, with the daughter of one of the American officials at the French capital, when a gentleman drove past in a plain equipage, and recognizing the "coat of arms" on the carriage, supposed she was one of the family and bowed graciously. The young lady not recognizing the person, stared at him and in much confusion and indignation, turned to her companion and said, "Did you see that impudent man bow to me?" "Oh yes, that was the Emperor."

—Bishop McIlvaine, of Ohio, has heard direct from Bishop Bedell, his assistant, who is now in Europe. The latter is spending August in the mountain air of Switzerland, and is rapidly gaining the use of his voice once more. Mrs. Bedell, who accompanied him, continues quite feeble and is very little improved by the voyage.

—Hon. James W. Grimes, of Iowa, U. S. Senator, says: "It is now twenty-eight years since I was elected to the first Territorial Legislative Assembly of Iowa, from Des Moines county, and during that period I have been honored by repeated evidence of the confidence of the people of the county and of the State. Should I serve out my present term of office, my connection with the public affairs of the State, more or less intimate, and only interrupted by short intervals, will have extended over a period of thirty-three years. After such a length of service I believe it to be my duty to retire from public employment and give place to my juniors."

—The Bridgeport, Connecticut, Standard, the home of Charles S. Stratton, (General Tom Thumb), says that his rival, Commodore Nutt, is five hundred per cent. smarter. The Commodore is a linguist, being exceedingly proficient in the German and French languages, and in mathematics is surprisingly perfect. He has differed from most dwarfs, in that he possesses a strong taste for study and learns with ease. His sister, Miss Ellinger, speaks good German, and is also very gifted in music and drawing. Her feet are so tiny that No. 1 shoes, children's size, are over large for her.

—Queen Victoria's abdication in favor of Prince Albert Edward, is again talked about in certain English political circles, and it is reported that Her Majesty's fondness for John Brown, one of her male attaches, has something to do with it. Queen Vic. was born at Kensington Palace May 24th, 1819; crowned at Westminster Abby, June 28, 1838; married Prince Albert, February 10th, 1840. She is the daughter of Edward (Duke of Kent, fourth son of George III.,) and Princess Victoria Mary Louisa, of Saxe-Coburg-Saulfield. The Queen's father died in January, 1820.

—Two ignorant French peasants were discussing the constitutional war, when one attempted to explain to the other the nature of the telegraph. After repeatedly failing, he was struck with a brilliant notion, and exclaimed: "Imagine that the telegraph is an immense long dog—so long that its head is at Vienna and its tail at Paris. Well, tread on its tail, which is at Paris, and it will bark at Vienna. Do you understand now, stupid, what the telegraph is like?" "Oh, yes!" replied the other, "I have an idea now what a telegraph must be."

—General Eyre, that inhuman monster, who managed the terrible Jamaica butchery, is likely to be brought to punishment for his conduct. A court-martial is to be convened to try those implicated in the report of the Commission, and it is to be entirely composed "of officers unconnected with Jamaica."

Matters in Mormondom.

The Great Salt Lake city correspondent of the New York Times says: The county and territorial elections came off on the 6th inst., and resulted in the election of the candidates on the "People's Ticket" (Mormon); an opposition (Gentile) ticket was expected, and as a consequence, there was considerable machinery set at work to defeat it. This example is sufficient to show that the Gentile element grows in Utah, and that the Mormons see the necessity of their striving to retain the political supremacy which they have ever held in this Territory. But the expected Gentile ticket did not appear, and the followers of the Mormon idea won an easy victory. Theatricals are not very brisk in Utah, there being no other than local talent performing there. Melodramas, comedies, farces and petite dramas are the staple offered. Julia Dean Hayne has gone to Montana, and from there she will come East, after an absence of several years.

THE Huntsville (Texas) Item, quoting an assertion of the Galveston News that the South would not now vote to re-establish slavery, adds:

"Perhaps so, if the old agitations and discussions were to be renewed; the old troubles and worryings and interference by one set of States with the inalienable rights and customs of another set of States. But if it were to decide on the rights of a series of States, as to what kind of labor they should employ; as to how they should invest their capital so as to secure that labor; as to the right or wrong of slavery per se, we are certain the institution would be restored unanimously—except so far as the votes of the few sneaks who infest the South would go to the contrary. Be sure the South will never forget that she has been violently robbed by a gang of highwaymen, who happened to muster more force for the robbery than she was able to prevent it, and that she will never forgive, though centuries should elapse ere she be righted. No, not wrongs are righted, one time or another, but till that time comes, she will know no such word as forgive, in a political sense."

THE REBUILDING OF CHARLESTON.—We mentioned a few days ago that the Charleston City Council, had referred to a special committee, a proposition to issue bonds of the city, drawing seven per cent. interest, to all who may wish to rebuild. The following is the basis of the proposal, which we omitted to give at the time: When a lot is valued at $10,000, and the parties owning the same wish to build a store, warehouse, or dwelling, worth $15,000 upon it, it is proposed to issue to the parties $15,000 of city bonds at par, the city to take a bond and mortgage with insurance policies assigned for security, and as an additional safety and security for the city, the interest is to be paid semi-annually, and the parties borrowing the city bonds are to be required to pay the interest in advance, so the city can be sure of meeting the interest on these bonds. This would increase the revenue of the city taxes in the following proportions: A lot now valued at $10,000, yielding $175 taxes, would, with a building valued at $20,000 erected upon it, yield $525, or from $300 to $350 increase over the present tax.

AMUSEMENT IN PARIS.—On Saturday, August 11, a great performance was given at the Cirque Prince Imperial, for juveniles. The programme was as follows:

A German troupe, which consists of twelve monkeys, twenty eight dogs, one goat, and eight ponies were to perform. The ponies were to be mounted by dog and monkey jockeys. A carriage drawn by eight horses was to be driven at a furious pace by two large Mandrilla monkeys. Ten apes, varying in height from four to five feet, attired in ladies' habits and round hats, were to ride through a quadrille, and others among their tribe were to rival Blondin, and put Leonard to the blush by their feats on the trapeze. An organ was to be turned by a horse, and marvelous feats of agility were to be executed by the goat, who outvies any living acrobat.

IMPROVED SORGHUM EVAPORATOR.—The Scientific American recommends a new sorghum evaporator invented by Mr. J. F. Riggs, of St. Joseph, Mo., by which defecation is more thorough, and the removal of the scum is facilitated, while the danger of burning the syrup is obviated. The pan is made of cast iron, which permits of a powerful heat, raising the mucilage rapidly. The skimmer is suspended from a frame by chains. The chains are attached to springs which hold the skimmer up when not in use. A slight pressure brings it down upon the pan. There is, also, an inclined scum trough, with a depression in the center, covered by a strainer. The whole affair is novel as well as practical.

A TELEGRAM speaks of the King of Hanover as "an old blind man." He is first cousin of Queen Victoria, and by three days her junior in age, as he was born may 27th, 1819, and is therefore now in his 48th year. He is a grandson of George III., and, in right of his father, Duke of Cumberland in the English House of Lords. He is a great lover and good composer of music, and a most exemplary man. His son, in whose favor he offered to abdicate, will be 21 on the 21st of next month. Since the death of William IV., in June, 1837, the Kings of England have ceased to be sovereigns of the Electorate or Kingdom of Hanover.

A STEAMER FOR HIGH SPEED.—A New York engineer has planned and is about building a river steamer, constructed entirely of Bessemer steel, the length to be 450 feet, the breadth 45, and the displacement 1700 tons. By constructing the steamer upon a peculiar model which he has planned, the engineer claims that with 10,000 (indicated) horse-power engines he can secure a speed of at least 30 statute miles an hour. The boat will accommodate 1,000 passengers, and is to run, if successfully built, between New York and Albany, making the trip in five hours.

THE WHIPPLE FILE COMPANY.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Whipple File Manufacturing Company, the President, Mr. W. P. Pierce, stated that the amount of unpreferred stock subscribed for was now $180,000, leaving a balance of $20,000 yet to be taken. Preferred stock to the amount of $575,000 has been subscribed for, leaving a balance of $225,000 open for subscription. The President also stated that the prospect of the company resuming business at an early day was very favorable.

MAX. MARETZEK's opera season will begin in Brooklyn on October 10th, and will last till the 13th; in Philadelphia from October 15th to the 27th; in Pittsburgh from the 29th to November 3d; in Brooklyn from the 5th to the 8th; in Boston from the 12th to the 24th; and in New York, at the Winter Garden, from the 26th of November until January, 1867. It is expected that the New York Academy of Music will be rebuilt and ready for occupation on or about the first week in January, 1867. The greatest activity is displayed in pushing the work forward.

ADVICES from Trieste state that divers are getting up articles from the vessels of the Italian fleet which were sunk, and that many objects have been brought to light. One was a case of table plate marked with the cipher of the King of Italy, and supposed to be a present made by the sovereign to Admiral Persano. A box, cased with iron, contained among a mass of papers, a voluminous correspondence of the Admiral with the King and various personages of importance.

PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL FOR THE Political Campaign.

The political campaign in which the electors of Pennsylvania are engaged is the most momentous in our political history—paralleled only by the military campaign which ended in the overthrow of the rebel armies. From recent startling indications it is evident that, although its military power was overthrown, the rebellion itself was not suppressed. The conflict has been renewed at the ballot-box—and happy will it be for our land if it be confined to the peaceful means placed in the hands of every elector.

The revolutionary attitude of the President, and the combinations that are forming in his support, are well calculated to excite the gravest fears and create alarm where before there was confidence in the future peace and prosperity of our rescued country. The issue no less now than when the armies of the Union and Rebellion were marshaled on the bloody field, involves the future of the Republic. On the vigilance of the loyal masses who supported the Government throughout the conflict, depends the question whether the fruits of that conflict and of the victory shall be lost or preserved.

The COMMERCIAL will fully and earnestly discuss the questions of the day, and through its ample columns will spread before the public a vast amount of carefully prepared matter, besides speeches of distinguished speakers, and documents bearing directly on the questions involved in the issue. The present circulation is unequalled and constantly increasing. The Daily issue reaches the business community of an extensive district, and the Weekly Edition has an extensive circulation among the masses. It is by the dissemination of intelligence only that the triumph of the good cause will be assured. To this end the COMMERCIAL will be furnished for the campaign at the following rates:

TRADE PROSPECTS.

Interesting Concerning the English Financial Crisis.

The New York Shipping List says: There is a material change in the financial and commercial situation. In some departments of business there is considerable activity, while in others the movement is decidedly slow. The state of trade, as a whole, may be said to be far from being satisfactory, or the volume of transactions so large as it ought to be, in view of the favorable conditions of an easy money market, and the well known wants and means of the country at large. Notwithstanding the almost total cessation of treasure shipments to Europe, and the consequent accumulation of specie and bullion, the gold premium advanced some 2 per cent. on Wednesday and Thursday, solely through the efforts of speculators for a rise, who had created a scarcity of cash gold by refusing to lend, except at extreme rates as high as ¼ and ½ per cent. a day having been exacted and paid; at the close, however, most of the improvements had been lost. Specie and bullion exports to Europe have not only almost ceased, but we learn, through a dispatch by the Atlantic cable, that the steamer Allemania, which sailed from Southampton for this port on the 22d inst., has $500,000 in gold from London. Considerable speculation has been indulged, in financial circles, as to the meaning of this movement. Some affect to believe that the importation is made for speculative effect; while others think that it is for account of the so called Imperial of Mexico. Whatever its purport, as a speculation the operation will pay 2½ per cent. profit, at the current rate of Exchange. Although the low rates of Sterling Bills favor shipments from England to this country, we are not among those who look for any considerable shipments of gold from England to this country at present, owing to the financial condition of that country, which, according to reliable accounts, continues critical, notwithstanding the recent reduction of the Bank rate to 8 per cent. A leading London journal, by the last mail, dated nearly three months after the panic of last May, tells us that many signs prove that England is on the verge of wide spread commercial distress; that, painful as the admission is, it must be conceded that the credit of that great and wealthy country abroad is for the time gone. The distrust of English firms is such that foreigners firmly refuse them, with the exception of those on a very few first-rate houses, and require payment of their debts in hard money. Hence the accumulation of £18,250,000 of bullion in the Bank of France, and a rate of discount barely exceeding 2½ per cent. in the open market in Paris, while more than three times as high a rate is upheld by the Bank of England, and even at that, advances are becoming more difficult except on first class securities of the best commercial paper. The numerous banking failures, and the misery that they have entailed in England, naturally induce not only general caution, but the desire to keep some cash at home, lest the sudden ruin and privation already experienced should extend to those who have thus far been exempt. There are good and cogent reasons, we take it, why England will be likely to hold her coin and bullion, at least until such times as there shall be a decided amelioration in the condition of her finances.

TO COAL DEALERS.—The undersigned has
100 ACRES OF COAL LAND,
Lying immediately upon the Ohio river, 26 miles below Gallipolis, and about 180 miles above Cincinnati. On the above tract is a full 4 foot vein of coal, which for general purposes is not surpassed; it is entirely different from the Southern Ohio coal; contains but little sulphur, forges and cokes well, and for making steam cannot be excelled. The location being about midway from Pomeroy and Hanging Rock, must make it quite valuable for coaling boats. There is a water front of ¾ of a mile with a good landing at all stages of the river. An entrance has been run in the hill about 300 feet, track finished to river, together with the necessary fixtures for mining and delivering coal afloat. On said tract is a first class Double Portable Circular Saw Mill, together with a Portable Grist Mill all in good running order and plenty of the very best oak, ash, and poplar timber. All the above property is now offered for sale, or the proprietors would sell one half interest in same to a party with experience and facilities for working same. For further particulars apply to, or address, until September 1st,

LINCOLN VS. HYGEIA.—A match game of base ball will be played between the first nines of these two clubs, on the West Common, Allegheny city, this afternoon, at 3½ o'clock. This will be quite a spirited contest, as we understand the Hygeia Club have a pretty strong nine to put in the field. As quite a large number of spectators are expected to be in attendance, ample arrangements have been made to seat ladies and gentlemen.

United States District Court.

Yesterday morning, in the United States District Court, Hon. Wilson McCandless delivered an opinion in the case of the United States vs the Distillery of Newberry Short, located in Tioga County. The case was argued on the 3d inst., by District Attorney R. B. Carnahan for the United States, and S. A. Purviance, Esq., on behalf of the property seized. The following is the decision of the Court:

"This is not a case which demands a forfeiture. The proofs show that the Distillery was in the process of erection, was incomplete, and the whisky manufactured, but three or four barrels in quantity, was more the product of experimental tests of the machinery than a regular business.

The respondent, instead of evading the law, seems to have been anxious to comply with its provisions, for when addressing a Government officer about taking out a license, and explaining to him the unfinished condition of his distillery, he was told "it was all right." Failing to take out a license, he has been criminally prosecuted and, pleading guilty, has been fined. For any violation of the law, and any evil he has done, he has been sufficiently punished.

The libel is dismissed at the costs of the United States."

On motion of District Attorney Carnahan, judgments were ordered against a number of oil dealers, for failing to make returns to the Revenue Collector of the Twentieth District, of oil exported by them.

Court sitting in Admiralty, S. C. McCandless, Esq., Commissioner in the case of T. A. Packard, et al. vs the steamboat Spray, submitted a report of the appropriation and distribution of the money arising from the sale of the boat and paid into the Registry. The Court confirmed the report nisi, and directed that it be made absolute unless exceptions be taken to the same within ten days.

McKeesport Sporting News.

There was quite a lively time at the thriving borough of McKeesport, on Saturday, in sporting circles. A foot race for a purse of ten dollars took place between Messrs. Spratt and Crissinger, distance three hundred yards. The race was exciting, resulting in Spratt being the winner.

Messrs. White and McPherson agreed to test their aquatic powers, and accordingly selected the Monongahela for a race. The distance rowed was two miles. McPherson led on the start, and it was conceded that he was the winner ahead. On the home stretch, however, White put all his muscular power into force, and reached the starting point two lengths ahead of his competitor. Time, 20:40.

An interesting match game of base ball also took place between the Fairplay and Allaquippa Clubs, of that borough, resulting in a victory for the latter. The score stood: Allaquippa, forty runs; Fairplay, twenty five runs. Umpire—R. G. Wood. Scorers—R. Newell and D. Clarke.

FOOT CRUSHED.—A man named Jason Robb had his foot crushed at the crossing of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway, on Federal street, Allegheny, yesterday about noon. He was riding on a train going west, and attempted to jump off at the crossing. In doing so he fell, with one foot across the rail, and before he could extricate himself the wheel of the rear car passed over it, smashing the foot sadly. He was taken into a drug store close by, and his injuries attended to.

ACCIDENT ON THE RAILROAD.—About noon yesterday, Dennis McAlur, an employer of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad Company endeavored to jump from a train of cars at the Federal street station, when he slipped and fell, and one of the wheels passed over the fore part of his right foot, mangling it in a shocking manner. He was removed to his residence, on Craig street, First Ward, Allegheny, where his wound was dressed by Dr. Irish, physician of the railroad company.

PLEASANT HILL FEMALE SEMINARY.—We direct the attention of parents and guardians to the announcement, in another column, of the re-opening of this popular institution. It is situated in a healthful and pleasant neighborhood, and ranks among the very best seminaries in the country. The next session will commence on the first Monday in September, with Mrs. Jane C. McKeever as Principal, assisted by Mr. Matthew McKeever.

RELEASED ON BAIL.—Henry Shroeder, committed to jail on Saturday by Justice Austin, of Richland township, to answer a charge of assault and battery, on oath of Catherine Shroeder, was brought into the Criminal Court, yesterday, and released upon entering two hundred dollars bail for his appearance to answer at the next term of Court.

CONCERT IN NEW BRIGHTON.—A grand vocal and instrumental concert will be given at New Brighton, this evening, by Miss Lina Scriba, of this city, assisted by her sister and other competent artists. A musical treat may be expected. Tickets may be had of Charles Wisiter, in New Brighton, and J. Linnenbrink, in Rochester.

PERSONAL.—With pleasure we announce the return of Mrs. Annie M. Sheib, from the East, where she has been studying singing with some of the best teachers, during the summer months. Mrs. S. will resume giving vocal lessons September 1st. Applications may be made at C. C. Mellor & Co's, 81 Wood street.

THE GALES OF ARABY are not spicier than the aroma which the fragrant Sozodont imparts to the breath. Nor is the heart of the ivory nut whiter than the teeth that are cleansed with that matchless fluid.

SIXTY-SECOND REGIMENT.—The second annual re-union of the members of this regiment will take place at Wilkins Hall, on Friday evening, the 14th inst. The gentlemen having the affair in charge are making all necessary arrangements to render the occasion a pleasant one, and we have no doubt that it will prove a great success.

VINEGAR MANUFACTURE.—The attention of cider vinegar manufacturers is directed to the card of Mr. C. Wesener, of Cincinnati, who is the patentee of a self-acting acidifier of great value. This is an important invention, and will commend itself.

Meeting of City Councils.

A regular monthly meeting of the City Councils was held last evening.

COMMON COUNCIL.—Present—Messrs. Diehl, Ford, Hare, Killen, Mawhinney, McEwen, McQuewan, McClelland, McGowan, Ogden, Patchell, Robb, Seibert, Tomlinson, Torley, Welden, Welsh, and Steel, President.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

The President presented a remonstrance from citizens of the Second ward, protesting against the erection of a house for the accommodation of the Duquesne Fire Company, on Second street, adjoining the Homœopathic Hospital and Infirmary. The communication was read and accepted and referred to the Committee on City Property.

Mr. Weldin offered an ordinance increasing the salary of the Street Commissioners from nine hundred to twelve hundred dollars, the increase to take effect on and after the first of July.

Mr. Ford stated that the present Commissioners were energetic and active men, and had already paid into the city treasury an amount of money more than equaling the advance desired, above what their predecessors had paid in. Their duties were onerous and they should receive the advance required.

Messrs. Killen, Ogden and Siebert spoke in favor of the advance, while Messrs. Brush, Hare, Tomlinson and McGowan opposed it. The matter was finally referred to the Finance Committee, by a vote of eleven yeas to eight nays.

Mr. Tomlinson offered a resolution, providing for the removal of a public gas lamp on Penn street in front of D. Leonard's lumber office, to the corner of Cecil's alley; also to have the lamp in front of the Citizens' Passenger Railway Office, on Penn street, removed to the corner of Small alley. Referred to Committee on Gas Lighting with power to act.

Mr. McGowan offered a resolution, instructing the Committee on City Property to have a new roof placed on the Niagara engine house without delay. The resolution was read and referred to Committee on City Property.

Mr. Brush, a resolution instructing the Committee on City Property to sell the engine house and lot on Wylie street, in the Sixth ward, for the highest price that can be obtained, and pay the money realized into the City Treasury; and that the Committee be authorized to purchase a lot in some suitable place in said ward; provided the cost of the lot does not exceed $2,000. The resolution was read three times and passed. S. C. non-concurred.

Mr. Robb presented a petition from Mr. Edward Allen, asking for an advance of fifty per cent. on the amount of his claim for constructing a sewer on Pennsylvania Avenue. Referred to the Finance Committee with power to act.

Mr. Robb also offered a resolution instructing the City Solicitor to enter satisfaction on all assessments for paving tax entered against persons owning lots on Bedford street, east of Fulton street; also authorizing the City Treasurer to refund to such persons who may have paid their assessments, the entire amount, with interest, provided, the City Solicitor shall be of opinion that said assessment cannot be legally collected. Referred to Finance Committee with power to act.

Mr. Killen, a petition from Mr. David Hutchinson, praying that Vickroy street, from Stevenson to Cooper streets, be made of a uniform width, viz., sixty feet. Referred to Committee on Streets with power to act.

Mr. Mawhinney presented a communication from residents of Pitt township, praying that 800 feet of four inch water pipe be laid on Forbes street, to connect with pipe on Gist street, which was read and referred to Committee on Water.

Mr. McClelland, a communication from the City Controller, recommending the payment of sundry bills, which was read, and warrants authorized to be drawn for the amounts named.

Mr. Ogden offered a resolution instructing the Committee on City Property to purchase a lot on Second street for the purpose of erecting a stable for the use of the Duquesne Engine Company. Read and referred to Committee on City Property.

Mr. Torley offered the following resolution which he hoped would meet with the unanimous approval of Council:

WHEREAS, It is probable that Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, will shortly pay a visit to the city of Pittsburgh. Therefore be it

Resolved, That this Council make the necessary preparation to render a fitting reception to his Excellency, and that a committee of five, two from the Select and three from the Common Council, be appointed to make suitable arrangements.

Mr. Killen opposed the resolution and recommended that it be referred to the meeting then in session in City Hall. Two years ago, he would have cheerfully seconded the resolution, and would have considered himself honored by being one of the committee to make arrangements to receive the man who proclaimed that he was in favor of making treason odious, by punishing traitors, and also in favor of protecting and rewarding the Union men of the South; but inasmuch as he was now in a position to carry out these assertions and refuses to do so, he could not vote to do honor to him. He had betrayed the trust reposed in him by the people, and was not entitled to any consideration.

Mr. Ogden stated that it was an embarrassing position to be placed in, to be compelled to refuse to pay proper respect to the Chief Magistrate of this great nation. He regretted that he could not do so, and thought that Andrew Johnson should not insult the city of Pittsburgh with his presence—a city that had so honored that great and good man, the lamented Lincoln. The people of this city are loyal, and have no sympathy with traitors. The speaker had voted for Andrew Johnson, but his course since his elevation to the Presidency had been such as to forfeit the respect of all honest men. History could not furnish the parallel of a man who had such opportunities for doing good and diffusing happiness and liberty throughout the land, and who had so abused the trust reposed in him, and he would vote against the resolution.

Mr. Weldon thought the city authorities should extend a fitting reception to the Chief Magistrate of the country. His enemies should sink the man and do honor to the office.

Mr. Torley called for the yeas and nays, when the resolution was lost by a vote of sixteen nays to two yeas—Messrs. Torley and Weldon voting in the affirmative.

Mr. Ogden presented a petion from Mr. R. Miller, Jr., President of the Monongahela Bridge Company, setting forth that the Bridge Company are occupying a triangular strip of land on the Monongahela wharf, for the storage of materials for repairing the bridge, and requesting the privilege of placing a fence around said ground for the protection of their property. Referred to Committee on Monongahela Wharf, with power to act.

Mr. Ogden, an ordinance providing for the licensing of solicitors for passengers on the levee and at the railroad depot. Referred to Committee on Ordinances.

Mr. Diehl presented a remonstrance from the Trustees of the German Evangelical Lutheran Church against the proposed paving of Mulberry alley, at the present time. Referred to Committee on Streets.

Mr. Mawhinney, a resolution authorizing the Committee on Gas to erect a public gas lamp on the corner of Magee and Ann streets, in front of the Eighth Ward School House. Referred to the Committee on Gas, with power to act.

Mr. Siebert, a resolution providing for the removal of the Fifth Ward Weigh Scales from their present location. Referred to the Committee on Streets.

The President presented the following communication:

OFFICE OF BOARD OF HEALTH,
PITTSBURGH, August 27, 1866.

THOS. STEEL, ESQ., President of Common Council: Dear Sir, According to your request, I send you the following statement from the records of the Board of Health: The number of interments in the several cemeteries from the city of Pittsburgh for the month of August, 1865, ending August 26th, were one hundred. For the same time in August 1866, the interments were seventy-one.
GEO. FORTUNE, Health Officer.

The communication was accepted and ordered to be filed.

Mr. Ford offered an ordinance permitting Messrs. Armstrong & Stacy to erect additional coke ovens adjacent to those they already occupy, on Second street, in the Eighth ward. Laid over under the rules.

Council then adjourned.

SELECT COUNCIL.—Present—Messrs. Armstrong, Barckley, Brown, Coffin, Gallaher, Herdman, Leow, McLaughlin, McMillan, Morrow, Normine, Shipton, Thompson, Wilson and President McAuley.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mr. McLaughlin presented a remonstrance from the property holders on Bedford street, complaing of the scarcity of water on that street, and asking that the water be let in the pipes as soon as possible. Referred to the Water Committee.

Mr. Barckley presented a petition from the residents of the Seventh ward, asking that a water pipe be laid on Overhill street, from Center avenue to Linton street. Referred to the Water Committee.

Mr. Wilson presented a remonstrance from the residents of Second street, against the erection of a building for the use of a Fire Company on Second street, adjourning the Homœopathic Hospital. Referred to the Committee on City Property.

Mr. McLaughlin read a communication from Peter McCoy, complaining of an insufficiency of the supply of water on Hill alley, in the Sixth ward. Read and referred to the Water Committee.

Mr. Armstrong offered an ordinance, providing that on and after the first day of September next the salary of the Messenger to Councils and Committees be increased from forty-five to sixty dollars per month.

Mr. Loew offered an amendment that the salary of the City Regulator be increased from four hundred to eight hundred dollars per annum. Referred to Finance Committee.

Mr. McMillen, from the Committee on Streets, reported an ordinance, granting the Allegheny Valley Railroad the right to construct a bridge over Canal street, near the corner of Etna street; provided, that said bridge shall be constructed so as not to obstruct the passage of the street, or interfere with the travel in any way, and to leave a clear height of ten feet. Read three times and finally passed.

BEFORE ALDERMAN MORROW.—Yost Ruch appeared before Alderman E. S. Morrow, of the Eighth ward, and made an information against six colored men named Joseph Kinney, Alex. Kinney, James Powell, David Powell and two others, whose names are unknown, charging them with malicious mischief and assault. Mr. Ruch resides in Pitt township, and alleges that the defendants entered his premises on Sunday, and commenced throwing stones at his cows, chasing them and beating them with clubs. He interfered and ordered them to leave his premises, when they turned upon him, throwing stones and other missiles at him, none of which, however struck him. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the accused. Thomas Manning was charged with having committed an assault and battery upon Sarah Michaels. Both parties reside in Pitt township, and the alleged assault consisted in Manning striking Sarah in the face. A warrant was placed in the hands of an officer for the arrest of Manning.

BEFORE ALDERMAN TAYLOR.—Mary Smith was taken before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, charged with keeping a disorderly house, on complaint of Theresa Sailor. The parties are residents of the Fifth Ward. Theresa also lodged another information against Mary, charging her with assault and battery. She alleges that Mary seized a hatchet and dealt her a severe blow upon the head with the blunt end of it. Mary determined to have revenge, and entered a cross suit against Theresa, charging her with assault and battery, alleging that she beat and abused her. A hearing was had on the several charges, which resulted in the dismissal of all of them, and the costs to be divided between the parties.

BEFORE ALDERMAN STRAIN.—Charles H. Simmons lodged an information yesterday before this magistrate, charging James Fisher, proprietor of a tavern in Birmingham, with selling liquor on Sunday, contrary to the act of Assembly. A warrant was issued for his arrest. Mary Connolly made two informations against Hannah Valentine for assault and battery. Both parties are residents of Pitt township. The prosecutrix alleges that on the 18th inst., Hannah struck her on the head with her fist, and that on the 25th inst. she threw several pails of water upon her. Hannah was arrested and held for a hearing on both charges.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

MONDAY, August 27—P. M.

The morning quotations from New York were: Gold, 147¼ Five-Twenties, 113¾; Ten-Forties, 103; Seven-Thirties, 106¾; Michigan Southern, 85¾; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 86⅞; Fort Wayne, 101⅝; Erie, 73⅜; Western Union Telegraph, 57⅞; Chicago and Northwestern, 37, and for the preferred stock, 68¼; Bennehoff (oil) 6¾; Pithole, 1¾; United States, 7¾; Gregory, (gold) 19¾ bid, against 20 asked; Holman (gold), 39 bid.

The sharp advance in Government securities to-day surprised many of our capitalists, who thought they had made a big thing when they sold out Five-Twenties at 109@110. What puzzles them now is to know what to do with their money. The Railway list must sympathise in this rise, and even good, well managed oil stock will now be sought for. Already there is some stir in Ocean at 5½, Cornplanter at ¾, Caldwell at ¾, and some others in the Philadelphia list. In our own market Columbia is inquired for and sells occasionally at about 17.

—The following statement exhibits the business of the Pittsburgh Clearing House for the week closing on Saturday, August 25th:

	Exchanges.	Balances.
August 20	$359,187 97	$136,366 63
August 21	280,712 37	85,831 15
August 22	262,697 90	61,007 58
August 23	246,835 15	52,657 97
August 24	293,181 73	124,022 20
August 25	281,335 37	82,620 18
Total	$1,726,250 49	$541,505 72

—The New York Tribune of Saturday says: The payments of the Sub-Treasury on account of temporary loans have commenced, and checks upon the Sub-Treasury are offered at low interest. Being payable in National Bank notes they are popular at bank, and we hear of cases where they have been declined as deposits to be drawn against to the damage of the receiving bank at the Clearing House. Next week another attempt will be made to force the city banks into making settlements at the Clearing House in these notes, and it is thought a majority can be had in favor of the plan. This currency is now at a regular discount, in large sums, of one-eighth per cent. and as high as one-quarter is reported upon the street, to the intense disgust of the expansionists, who are now so fond of paper money as to think a bank note superior to the issue of the Treasury, and who view with alarm the prospect of getting gold from Europe, or returning to specie payment by any method.

—At the Boston Board on Saturday, Mining stocks continue to be the most prominent feature of interest in the market, and are exciting the attention of the public in a manner unprecedented since the high speculative times which prevailed in 1864. The movement at the present time seems to be vigorous and earnest, but is without the feverish excitement which usually attend such large operations and such radical changes in values as are now going on. Franklin seems to be the head and front of the mining interest, and shows daily a degree of strength which promises to carry it up to a point where another numeral will be required to express its value. It advanced to-day to 80 regular; 83 buyer 30, an advance of 5 on yesterday over the opening price yesterday, and closed strong, with 80 bid. These figures speak for themselves. Copper Falls is still advancing, selling up to 52, with no stock offering at less than 52½. Quincy is also advancing with slow and measured tread, but steadily and with great firmness. It opened to-day at an advance of 1½ on yesterday morning's price, and sold up to 54 regular, which was bid at the close. Pewabic was stronger, making an advance of 1⅝ on the opening price yesterday. Pittsburgh improved ½; Minnesota 1. Bay State and Petherick were steady. Washington was in request at about previous prices.

At the Open Board there was continued improvement. Copper Falls advanced to 53½; Franklin to 85 buyer 10; Quincy to 56 buyer 30. Hancock was steady. Native was active at 1¾ a2. The market closed firm and with an upward tendency.—Boston Advertiser.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
TUESDAY, August 28, 1866.

Business remains inactive, with but a slight trade demand for most of the leading articles. The weather remains very pleasant, more so than any August we have any recollection of. We have another swell in the Monongahela. Whilst it will assist the coal men in the pools, it will be of little, if any, benefit to boats engaged in the lower trade. The only boats running below the bridge are the Leni Leoti and Forest City, in the Wheeling trade, and the J. L. Graham, that runs to Smith's Ferry. Whether any other boats will venture out in this water remains to be seen. Trade on the Allegheny has been very dull since the suspension of navigation to Oil City. The produce market has not been very active for some time. The supply being in excess of the demand, prices for most descriptions rule low. Flour was firm, with a good demand. The advantages of the market continue on the side of holders. The export demand was not very large. The rail receipts since our last were 1,480 barrels, thus placing the market in a good supply. Bacon—The market was firm, with a good jobbing demand. The first receipts we have noticed for some time consist of 7,489 pieces of shoulders, consigned to F. Sellers & Co. This will assist the present stock, which is being rapidly reduced. Grain—The market for most descriptions was steady. The rail receipts were: Wheat, 6 car loads; oats, 1,075 sacks and 1 car load; corn 7 car loads. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice.

FEED—Was in fair demand. Prices have been uniform for some days, with sales at the following prices: Middlings—sales 6 tons choice, $1 85; seconds, $1 25@1 30, according to quality. Bran—Further sales were made at $1 00@1 05 per cwt.

PIG LEAD—The demand was fair and sales were regular; 300 pigs were disposed of at 12c. The receipts by rail were 700 pigs.

BUTTER—Inactivity has been the prevailing feature of the market for some days. Prices being governed by the quality, it would be difficult to fix the price for good round parcels. Sales of ordinary at 24@26c; strictly prime roll, 28@30c.

APPLES—The market contains a large supply. Prices were weak and irregular. Sales of 70 bbls, in lots, $2 00@3 50 per bbl.

RYE FLOUR—There is nothing doing in this article worthy of notice. Sales by the dray load $6 25@6 40.

EGGS—Prices have been steady since the last advance has been established.

GRAIN—We notice an improved demand for most articles that come under this head. Oats—The receipts by rail were as follows: Sacks, 1,075, and one car load among the sales were 600 bush, at depot, 43c; 400 do, 44c; small sales were made from store at 48@50c. Wheat—The market was firm. The rail receipts since our last were 6 car loads; sales 1 car Northwestern spring, at elevator, $2 30; winter wheat was held at $2 60. Rye was more fancied; sales 1 0 0 bush at elevator, 93c. Corn—We note sales 900 bush shelled at 78c. Barley—We have not learned of any sales for some days.

SALT—The market was steady, but not very active, at $2 75 ₩ bbl.

FLOUR.—The market remains very firm with a good trade demand. The rail receipts since our last were, 1,480 barrels. The sales since our last were large; former prices were well maintained. Extra family winter wheat—sales of 250 bbls Pride of the West at $12 50; sales of 50 bbls winter at $12 75; sales of 450 bbls, in lots, spring, at $11 25@11 75; winter at $12 25@12 75 per bbl. The market closed firm.

BACON—We continue to notice a firm market with a good demand. Among the sales were the following: Shoulders, 7,000 lbs, at 17¼@17½c; sides, ribbed, at 19¼@20c; sugar cured hams—sales of 6,000 lbs at 25c.

LARD OIL—We have no change to note as regards prices or demands. Sales 25 bbls, No. 1, at $1 70@1 72; sales 10 bbls, No. 2, at $1 50 ₩ gallon.

LARD—Market steady, with further sales at 22c.

LEMONS—We note sales of 5 boxes, to arrive, at $9 00.

POTATOES—Jersey Sweet—We note sales of lots comprising 50 barrels, in lots, at $6 25@7 00; sales 40 barrels Buckeyes at $2 50@2 75 ₩ barrel.

APPLES—The market remains very dull, the supply being in excess of the demand. We omit figures.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL,
TUESDAY, August 28, 1866.

The oil market yesterday was firm, with a demand and an increased firmness on the part of holders. Crude was very scarce, with a good deal of inquiry for future delivery. Holders, at least those that were disposed to sell, found no difficulty in obtaining 17c for bulk. This would be equal to 22c including packages. From Oil City and the other oil districts, we learn that the market was firm with an upward tendency in prices; 16½c was offered freely. Buyers paid no attention to these prices. Yesterday may be set down as the day of few sales. The following is all that came under our notice: 100 bbls Greene county amber, 18c, bbls returned; sales 250 bbls Allegheny, bulk, 17c; 100 do, same terms; 200 bbls, 40@47 gravity, packages included, 21½c; 200 bbls, 40@47 gravity, bulk, 16½c; 200 bbls Smith's Ferry oil, 16½c.

REFINED OIL—There was nothing done worthy of notice, there being a wide difference of opinions as regard prices. The only sale we could learn of was 200 bbls Hope brand, bonded free in the cars here, in September, 39c.

Silk.

There have been no new arrivals of new silk, says the circular of George M. Haywood, New York, August 23, but some may be expected early in September. The stock unsold is being reduced, with fine Silk scarce and wanted, of both China and Japan silk. Prices in Europe have advanced fully 10 to 15 per cent. since the peace news, and are advancing in China, with an apparent scarcity of Silk of all kinds. In Canton Re-Reeled Silk there has been more doing here, with some concession in price for second quality. Fine Silk being in small stock, are held firmer.

Taysaams and Tsatlees are more inquired for, and in moderate supply; prices steady.

In Japan Silk sales of the best qualities continue at full rates, and a full sized Silk wanted lately, but the present demand is not yet very active. In Throwns and Sewings there is more doing and considerable contracts and deliveries are making at full prices, both of imported Throwns and Domestic Thrown Silk.

We quote in currency. Gold at 148 premium.

China Tsatlees, No. 1, 3a4	$11 00a12 00	nominal
Taysaams, No. 1a2, superior	10 00a10 50	sales.

The Tobacco Crop.

In the tobacco regions of Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois and the Green and Cumberland river country, says the Tobacco Leaf, there has been, in the whole region, an average breadth of land planted; though much less in the sections formerly cultivated by slave labor, but made up by the increase in Indiana. The plant is more advanced than usual, and is doing finely. It is of superior quality, as the season has been favorable. It is as fine as has been grown for years, and if not injured by an excess of either hot or dry weather, or a cutting frost before the 10th of September, there will be a large yield of better quality than any year since 1863. In Indiana, in the river counties, the crop will be considerable above the average, both in quantity and quality. In Kentucky, estimating the whole region, there will be an average crop. In Illinois the crop will not be so large in amount, as there has been less breadth planted than formerly.

The yield for the four years for this region mentioned is estimated, from reliable data, as follows: 1863 at at 155,000 hhds; 1864, 100,000 hhds; 1865, 70,000 hhds and 1866 at from 115,000 to 125,000 hhds.

Hat Trade.

There has been an improvement in the hat trade in New York. On last Wednesday there was a sale of five hundred cases, by J. H. Prentice, at the following prices: Wool hats—men's plain, $7 25a13 25; men's fancy, $7 12a18 75; youth's fancy, 8 25a14 37; boy's plain, $6 25a9 50; children's plain, $7a7 25. Cassimere hats—men's plain, $19 75a29; men's fancy, $22 37a28 25. Black beaver and belly nutria, $41 75a48. Black brush, $48a54.

Ironton, O., Iron Matters.

The Register says: No. 1 foundry is still quoted at $47a48; No. 2 mill at $45a47. Very little is doing now, but holders are firm in their views, notwithstanding gold has taken a downward tendency. We learn of sales of the best brands of cold blast at $65. There is nothing new regarding manufactured iron. Orders are very limited, and prices remain as heretofore quoted.

New York Finance and Trade

Gold Closed at 148 3-4.

Special Dispatch to Western Press.

NEW YORK, August 27, 1866.

THE MONEY MARKET.

There is no change to note in the money market, and the demand from the Stock Exchange is readily met at 4a5 per cent. Prime discounts range at 5½ to 6½.

THE GOLD MARKET

Was decidedly firmer towards the close of the day, and advanced to 148¾. The movement was caused solely by the manipulations of the bull clique.

EXCHANGE.

The market for foreign exchange remains very dull. Brokers' bills are quoted at 107, and short sight at 108.

The disbursements at the Sub-Treasury on account of the temporary loans to-day reached nearly $14,000,000.

STOCKS.

At the last open board the stock market was quiet and firm.

GOVERNMENTS.

Considerable discussion is taking place in Wall street on the expediency of Mr. McCulloch's taking advantage of the present active demand for Government bonds to place a large lot of Five-Twenties on the market. The impression prevails very extensively that the high price for which Five-Twenties are selling is a direct benefit for the Treasury. At present, however, the speculators who hold the bonds are the persons who profit by the advance. If Mr. McCulloch were to sell Five-Twenties for cash, the Treasury would get the benefit of the large premium which these bonds now command. It is urged that in view of these facts, a considerable part of bonds should shortly be paid from the Treasury at current market price—and the law allows such an issue of gold bearing bonds to an amount not exceeding the whole of the temporary loan and certificates of indebtedness, which shall have been paid off at the date of issue.

After the board prices were steady and slightly better in some cases. The market for petroleum and mining shares was quiet and generally steady.

PETROLEUM STOCKS.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Money easy at 4a5 ₩ cent. for call loans. Sterling quiet at 109¼a107. Gold irregular and unsettled opening at 146¾, and closing at 148¾. Governments have advanced from ¼ to 1¾. Freights to Liverpool dull. There is no change in the money market. Gold is more active and there is more disposition to buy. Railroad shares strong. Rock Island being chiefly in demand. At the four o'clock open board the following were the principal sales: Ohio and Mississippi certificates, 29¼; Erie, 73½; Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana, 85¾; Chicago and Northwestern preferred, 68½; Illinois Central, ex dividend 123¾; Chicago and Northwestern, 37½; Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, 108¾; Gold closed at 148¾.

The Commercial's money article says: For the use of money on call there is but little inquiry. The rates continue at 4 and 5 per cent. strong parties finding no difficulty in supplying themselves at the lower rate, while lenders who have the reputation of not calling in their funds without a decided upward change in the condition of the market, finding no difficulty in employing their means at 4 per cent. The paper the supply is not large, and the range of first class names may be noticed at 5 to 6 per cent. for short to long dates. There is no movement of any moment in foreign exchange this morning, and rates are nominally about the same as at the close of last week. The asking range for bank bills this morning is 108¼a107 for sixty days, and 107¾a108¼ for short sight, but we hear of no transactions. In the stock market the feature of the day was the great activity in Government securities, and an important advance in the prices. The demand from abroad for the 5-20's is large, and they are very scarce, so that there is much difficulty in filling the orders received by some of our banking houses, on account of whom we have heard of some heavy transactions by private purchase this morning, in addition to the sales made at the board. In railroad shares the market was not active, and prices ruled somewhat irregular, but with some exceptions higher. Gold 148⅜; Reading 115¼; Erie, 73⅛; New York Central, 103⅛; Chicago & Rock Island, 108¾; Western Union Telegraph, 57⅛; Ohio & Mississippi certificates, 29¼; 6s of 1881, registered, 112; 5-20 coupons, 1862, 113¾; 5-20 coupons, 1865, 109; 7-30s, first series, 106¾; do second series, 106; do third series, 106; Alton & Terre Haute, 39; Alton & Terre Haute preferred, 71½; Milwaukee & Prairie Du Chien, second preferred, 86.

The Post's money article says: Gold is more scarce, and is lending at 1a1 8 premium. The loan market is easy but unsettled, at 5 per cent., with exceptional transactions at lower rates. The stock market is unsettled and irregular. Railroad shares are firmer, without much activity. After the board, N. Y. Central sold at 103¾; Erie, 73; Hudson, 115; Mich. Central, 113.

Boston Markets.

The increased activity in commercial circles, noted last week, has been, says the Bulletin of last Saturday, partially neutralized this week by the disturbances of the gold market. These have not had the effect to unsettle values to any extent, but only to check the upward tendency and cause a temporary interruption of business. At the close, however, with gold apparently recovering, and a considerable influx of Western buyers, trade is again starting up.

While it does not seem probable to us that gold quotations can long be maintained where they are, with the current turned from Europe in this direction, with another liberal stream flowing in upon us from the Pacific seaboard, and with Government bonds tending up both at home and in the trans-Atlantic markets, we see no good reason, in this anticipated decline of specie values, to distrust the prospect of a good fall trade. If these should drop very much lower, the effect might, and probably would be, to increase the purchasing power of the currency, and reduce the prices of both stocks and merchandise in a corresponding ratio. But it is hardly likely that general values can be brought down without reducing the plethora of currency or producing a monetary stringency, the obvious effect of this must be to largely increase, rather than diminish, the volume of trade, and cause an extensive movement in, and an enhanced consumption of, all staple commodities.

DRY GOODS.

There is considerable activity in cotton goods, and prices are firm at a shade advance on several styles most wanted for immediate use. This improvement, though caused by seasonable causes, is hardly quotable in some lines, but goods of every description are more firmly held, and sell readily at rates which were nominal ten days ago.

The supply of sheetings and shirtings in first hands has been very much reduced. In some cases sold up close, and a week or two more of active trade would be likely to materially enhance prices. The popular brands of brown sheeting may be quoted at 23c nett at which figure Appleton As are now selling, after having been sold up to production at 22½c. Mediums and four yard goods are firm at 17a20c.

Fine brown cottons are in demand at a general advance of ½a1c per yard on previous rates. We quote Newmarket and Exeter As, and Great Falls Js at 21c; Forest As, 18c; Laconia Es, 23c; do Os, 23½c. Bleached goods are very firm and a shade better. We quote Bills 4-4, 32½c; Bates do, 31c; Social do, 30½c; Bartlett do, 29c; do 7-8, 22½c; Social do, 18½c; Reynolds A A, 23½c. Other styles of plain cottons are firmer, but without quotable change.

Prints are in better demand, and selling quite freely at previous rates. The best makes may be quoted at a range of 18a21c. The stock of Fall styles is good and attractive. American delaines are also in better request at agents' price, which is uniformly 28c.

The market for dress goods has been rather unsettled by gold fluctuations. But desirable fall styles are in moderate stock and command remunerative prices.

The market for woolen goods exhibits more animation, and round lots are moving off at prices which could not be realized a short time ago. But rates are still very low, and there is a good margin for a further advance. Tilton's all wool tweeds are in demand and sold ahead at 50a55c. Chattanooga wool doeskins are selling at $1 20. Prattville doeskins and cassimeres are active at $1 30a1 37½. Low grade satinets are wanted at rates tending up. Heavy coatings and cloakings are inquired for. Shawls, flannels and blankets are selling more freely.

WOOL.

We note an improved demand for wool; but whether it is the result of increased confidence on the part of the buyers, or of liberal concessions on the part of the sellers, we will not undertake to decide. To be sure they are buying at very low rates, which ought to afford a liberal margin on the manufacturer, unless goods are to be actually given away. And when we compare these wool prices with the current rates of gold and of other staple commodities, we cannot very well help coming to the conclusion that the present is just the right time to buy and lay in stocks of wool for future requirements.

The receipts continue to fall off, and have dwindled down to a very small average. Evidently the country trade is at an end till prices either come up here or go down there. But if accounts are to be credited growers are determined to hold on to the balance of their clip, and to carry it over to next year rather than submit to rates current in the market of consumption. On the other hand, stocks of wool in the great Eastern markets are very large, and press heavily on the hands of the holders, who have an immense amount of capital tied up in them, which in some cases needs very much to be liberated.

After this is accomplished, the pressure to realize in some measure relieved, and stocks reduced to more manageable dimensions, we know of no reason why wool should not be firmer. But until this happens, or the necessities of consumers become more urgent, holders will probably continue to meet the market quite freely at rates which will attract buyers. The only wonder is, under the circumstances, that the former are able to hold their own as well as they do, without pressing sales at a ruinous sacrifice.

Sales of domestic for the week foot up some 750,000 lbs, at about the range quoted last week, or perhaps a shade lower on the average—say, 47a65c for fleece, and 35a68c for the various grades of pulled.

FLOUR.

The market is more quiet, but prices are very firm, for all grades. The stocks are small and receipts very meagre for the season, footing up only 22,298 bbls for the week. Sales of Western superfine at $8 25a8 75; common extra, $9 50a10 75; bakers' brands, $11 00a12 00; medium do, $11 50a12 50; good and choice Ohio, Michigan and Genesee, $12 50a13 50; St. Louis medium and good, $11 50a14 00; choice and fancy brands, $15 00a 16 25 ₩ bbl. Lots of unsound Western flour are selling at a range of $5 00a9 00 ₩ bbl.

SHOE AND LEATHER MARKET.

The boot and shoe market rules firm for all seasonable work, with a brisk jobbing demand from buyers of the interior. Our jobbing houses and manufacturers are full of orders, ahead of their present means to fill. But heavy Western buyers, from the principal cities of that section, though here in considerable numbers, have not been operating freely of late, and we hear of a few instances in which orders from this class of dealers have been countermanded.

The leather market continues firm, with a steady consumptive demand for all descriptions, particularly for the heavy grades adapted to seasonable manufacture.

We quote Hemlock sale in good demand and firm at 32a39c, the outside rate for overweights; Calcutta Buffalo is firm at 33a35c; oak is selling at a range of 37a 56c. Rough upper is very firm at 35a40c for hemlock, and 37a40c for oak. Rough calfskins are scarce and wanted, at a range of $1 20a1 35, finished do at $1 40a 1 75, as to quality and weight. Finished leather is active. Wax and kip are selling at 22a25c; 27a 29c; pebbled grain, 20a25c, pebbled calf, 40a45c, patent leather, 20a28c; splits, 15a30c ₩ foot.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Provisions are firm; pork higher, with a speculative demand. Agricultural produce is in good supply and in demand; hay and dairy produce firmer, with a shipping movement. Dry and pickled fish are active, at full prices. Groceries, including sugar, molasses and coffee, are in better request and stronger. Calcutta goods, excepting hides and linseed, are quite active, the gunny bagsnad cloth still tending up. St. Domingo logwood, linseed oil, petroleum, and grass seeds are firmer. Pearlash, spirits turpentine and tallow, are a shade off. Cotton is quiet. Hemp is mostly nominal. Meta is are quiet and unchanged.

New York Grocery Market.

August 25.—Coffee—The market is not active, the demand being moderate, but remains steady at previous rates. The sales of Rio are 361 bags per Matador, 3 600 do per Circassian, 1,056 do per Chanticleer, a resale, 3,000 do per Wayfarer, and 4,000 do per Traveler, at Baltimore, on New York account, all on terms not made public. Stock of Rio here 69,645 bags. Other descriptions are only in moderate request, and we notice 200 bags Laguayra at 19¼c; 100 bags and 500 mats Java, 24a25½c gold, and 100 bags Jamaica, on terms not transpired.

Molasses—The demand has continued very moderate since our last, and the market is inactive and weak, prices still tending in buyer's favor. The sales are 517 hhds and 127 bbls Cuba Muscovado, in lots at 46a55c for the hhds, and 60c for the bbls; 50 hhds and 26 bbls Porto Rico, 75a77½c; 50 hhds Barbadoes, 62c; 31 Demerara, 61c, and 70 bbls Texas, 8½c 4 mos.

Rice—There is a fair demand for Rangoon for home use, and the market, though quiet, is pretty firm; the sales are 1,000 bags Rangoon, in lots, at 8½ 7½a800 do for export, on private terms, and Carolina in a small way, $13 50a14, cash.

Sugar—The market for raw continues quiet and rather depressed—prices being barely supported—but we have not varied our quotations of Tuesday last, though some of our Brokers quote Refining good Cuba one-eighth of a cent below them. The demand is very moderate; and as the views of sellers and buyers are variant, the business is consequently on a moderate scale. Refined is inactive but steady at about previous rates, say 16½a16¾c for Hard, 15¼a15½c for Soft White, and 13¾a14¾c for Yellow. Messrs Stuart quote their best Crushed, Granulated and Ground 16¾c; White A, 15½c, and Yellow C, 15¾c, cash the last two showing a reduction of ⅛c. The sales are 1146 hhds. Cuba at 10½ to 12½c 108 Clarified, &c, 11¾a12¾c; 214 Porto Rico, 12a13½c; 95 Barbadoes, 12¾c; 5 Martinique, 11¾c; 18 St. Croix 13c; 4750 bags Brown Pernambuco, 11c; and 631 bxs, Havana, 10¾a12½c, 4 mos.

Tea—Both Black and Green have continued in fair demand, and the market is strong at previous rates. We notice 5600 hf. chests Oolong, per "Amaranth," &c., and 3400 Green.—Commercial List.

Cincinnati Provision Market.

August 25—P. M.—Mess Pork sold to a small extent at $33, but the market is not supported by any demand of consequence.

Lard is inactive at 20½c.

Bulk Shoulders are held at 15c loose. Bulk Sides sold at 17a17½c. Bulk clear Sides sold again at 19½a 19¾c, packed, and 19c loose.

Bacon Shoulders are firm at 17c; Sides at 19¾c, and clear Sides at 21a21½c.

Hams are steady at the old range of prices. The tone of the market is good, though transactions are mostly confined to Bacon and bulk Meats.

THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight the marks indicated about three feet six inches water and falling. The weather during the day was pleasant.

THE SLACKWATER NAVIGATION.—The repairs on Lock No. 2 having been completed, the packets have resumed their through trips. The United States mail, old line, superintended by Commodore Jacobs, will run two packets per day. The morning boat leaves their wharfboat at 8 A. M.; the evening boat at 5 P. M. During the repairs at the locks these boats were placed in complete order; in fact, the Franklin and Telegraph look just like new. This company has a new and magnificent steamer in a forward state. She will be placed on the track this fall. Who will take charge of her, we have not yet learned. We don't think it would be difficult to name the fortunate individual. The old line boats are commanded as follows: Fayette, Capt. M. A. Cox; Gallatin, A. S. Carlisle; Franklin, George W. Clark, and Telegraph, J. Bugher.

THE PEOPLE'S LINE OF PACKETS.—These boats now leave their wharf boat daily, except Sundays, at 5 P. M. The line is composed of two of the finest side-wheel steamers that ever turned head up that stream. The Elector is in charge of Captain E. Phillips. The Chieftain is in charge of Captain R. R. Abrams. She leaves their wharf at the foot of Grant street, this day at 5 P. M. We take pleasure in recommending one and all.

CAPT. JOHN S. HASK'S new hull is at the wharf, preparing to receive the engines of the Citizen. She is of mammoth size for a sternwheeler, and will be entirely new in her outfit in every respect, and from the energy of her commander we may look for something that has not yet been presented to the traveling public or shipping merchants, and not before witnessed on the Ohio or Mississippi rivers.

THE Wheeling and Parkersburg Packet for this day is the Leni Leoti, Captain Hamilton. She leaves at noon. To persons going that way a fine opportunity is presented.

Cincinnati.

August 26.—We condense the following from the Sunday Commercial:

The Kanawha is falling, with 25 inches in the channel. Here the river has fallen 9 inches during the past 24 hours, with 9 feet on the shoalest bars hence to Louisville. There is 6 feet in the canal.

The Charmer had 215 barrels of cement for Memphis, 12 bbls of eggs, and 130 barrels of meat for New Orleans. The Belle Memphis is taking on considerable freight here. The Big Horn takes up two barges from this point, well laden. The river has risen six inches. The weather is clear and pleasant. A dense fog hung over the river for two hours this morning. Business is as usual.

Nashville.

Aug. 24.—The river, after a rise of five or six inches on Wednesday evening, was stationary yesterday, with some twenty or twenty-two inches reported on the shoals.

No steamers in port, and business suspended.

Captain Phil. Wills, an old Cumberland river favorite, but for the past five years a resident of Garrettsburg, Ky., was in the city yesterday. He is now on his way to New Orleans, where he expects to locate.

The J. S. Pringle, now being used as a wharfboat at Johnsonville, sunk a few nights ago.

Captain George V. Hart, of the St. Patrick, is in the city.

The Government, yesterday, shipped 103 barrels of sugar and 475 sacks coffee to Louisville by rail, and 45 tons stationary to St. Louis by Captain Egan's Cairo and Johnsonville Packet Company.

Business was very quiet on the wharf yesterday. Epidemic excitement all over. Freight is beginning to accumulate along the Illinois and Upper Mississippi, and will soon be undergoing shipment to this point. Weather cool and pleasant.

The Southerner was sold to Memphis parties for $20,000.

The John D. Perry was sold to Louisa Byers, of Memphis, for $9,000. The Perry was built in March, 1858, and cost $43,000.

John C. Sinnot, of New Orleans, was the purchaser here of one eighth of the Magenta, for $8,000.

New Orleans.

August 22.—There was but one arrival and four departures. The departures were: Una, for Red River; Cornie, for Natchez; Grey Eagle, for Vicksburg; and Clara Dolsen, for St. Louis. The Mississippi came in from St. Louis with a big trip of Western produce and passengers. The Cincinnati packet Silver Cloud, having passed Vicksburg yesterday, will be in port to-morrow, and leave again on Saturday.
